

The background of the entire page is a dark, textured surface. Overlaid on this is a grid of squares. Each square contains a large circle. The circles are arranged in a 4x6 grid. The colors of the circles and squares transition from dark blue on the left to a lighter teal on the right. The text 'BLUE DEVIL 1968' is printed in white, sans-serif capital letters, centered horizontally and positioned in the lower half of the grid.

Elizabeth,
You are one in a million. You are a very nice friend to have.
I hope that you have the best of luck always.

Barbara
Can

Elizabeth,
You're a real sweet and cute girl and I'm real glad I met you. We've had so much fun in P.E. We're both so athletic! Come over and see me this summer. I'd be real glad to see you. Call me this summer and we'll go to the show or something. ~~Good~~ luck to you always.

Love
Cheri

Elizabeth,
It's really been so wonderful knowing such a great person.
You are a friend that anyone would think they were lucky to have! Will always remember you and hope to see a lot of you during the summer and next year.

Love,
Harriet

You have been a gas in class and I hope to see
you next year.
Hugh Wassinger

Elizabeth,
Well, we've both suffered through Physical Science and traces together and traces oh!!! Have a nice summer and be good!

Love,
Andy

It's been nice knowing you this year. Stay as sweet as you are and the world will be at your feet.
Love ya!
Janice

Elizabeth,
 It's been so nice knowing a cute, silly, girl like you. I'll never forget you. Vinnie Dannelly

Elizabeth
 I have enjoyed knowing you this year and I look forward to seeing you next year
 Have a nice summer
 Edger Brown

Elizabeth,
 I have enjoyed knowing you in my English and chorus classes. Have a nice summer and try to be good. I hope to see you next year. Love,
 Cheryl Aycock

Elizabeth,
 We've had a ball this year in H. R. I guess we'll be stuck with each other for the next three years but just keep smiling and it won't be such a bad stick!!!

Love

Jane Muldard

Elizabeth,
 You are cute and quite a girl. You always having something to laugh about, lucky
 you. I Good luck in the future and stay just as you are.
 Love
 Ellen

Elizabeth,
 The little girl next girl next door, that made me sicker.
 Nice meeting you this ~~year~~ hope to this summer
 Love You
 David Wessinger

Elizabeth
 I have enjoyed having you in my homeroom class
 and in 8.09.
 I hope to see
 you next.
 Have a nice summer
 Love
 Sandra

Elizabeth, name,
 That's my name,
 how 'bout that!
 Elizabeth, I have really enjoyed being in science and chorus. Chorus was really great, fabulous - lots of fun.

Elizabeth,
 it has been a pleasure having you in world Geography this year. You are the nicest student a teacher could have. May you have a happy and successful life!

Love ya,

PROLOGUE

Dreher is a special school; it leaves with each student special feelings and memories. As Dreher is famed for high academic standards and accomplishments, so is it known for outstanding services and activities. A school influences all who are a part of it in some manner. When one leaves Dreher, he takes with him impressions . . . honor . . . spirit . . . hope . . . sorrow . . . humor . . .

Cecil the Cea-Cick Cea Carpent, you are a very sweet and cute girl. I've enjoyed knowing you a whole lot this year - Have a real nice summer and be good. Love, Cherise

Elizabeth,

To my great tennis-pal.
Well, haven't we had fun, inspite of everything. Maybe I will see you this summer, I'd hope we get in some of the same classes next year.

Jeff
Barbara

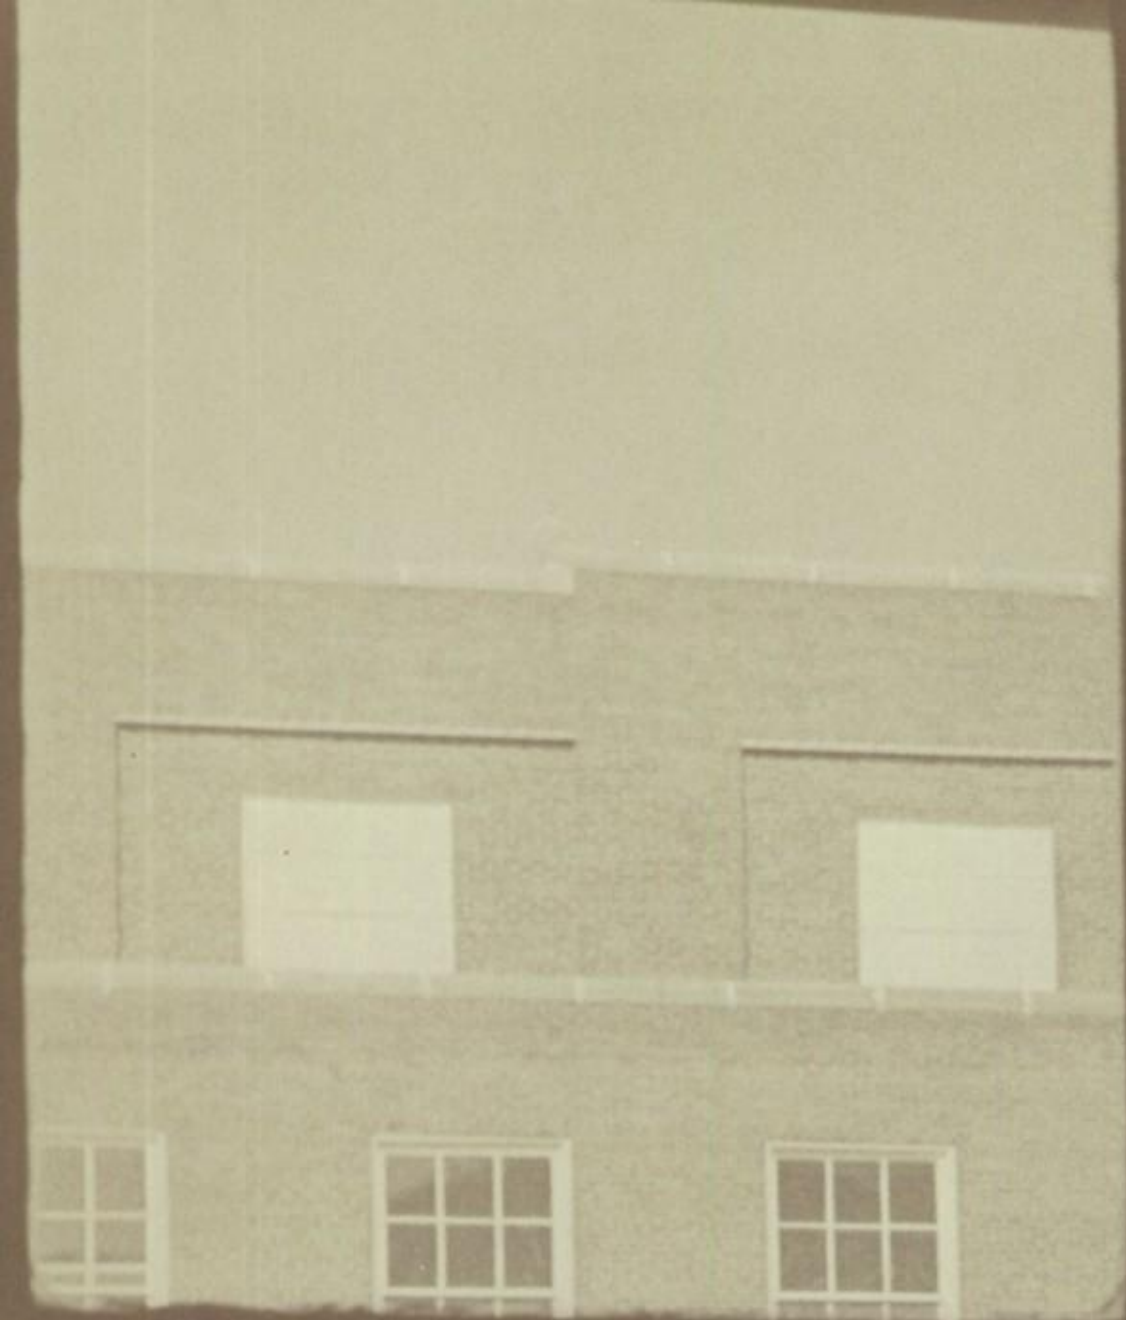

Elizabeth,

You are a dear, sweet cute girl and I love you.
You shall be a wonderful girl to get. See ya later and I'll find

Love forever
Rick

Bearcat MEAT
Bearcat MEAT

The year begins . . . a burst of activities . . . parents, teachers, caught up in a deluge of responsibilities, attend inductions and receptions . . . For students, the emphasis is on learning and spirit . . . Orientation for new students . . . reacquaintance for old . . .

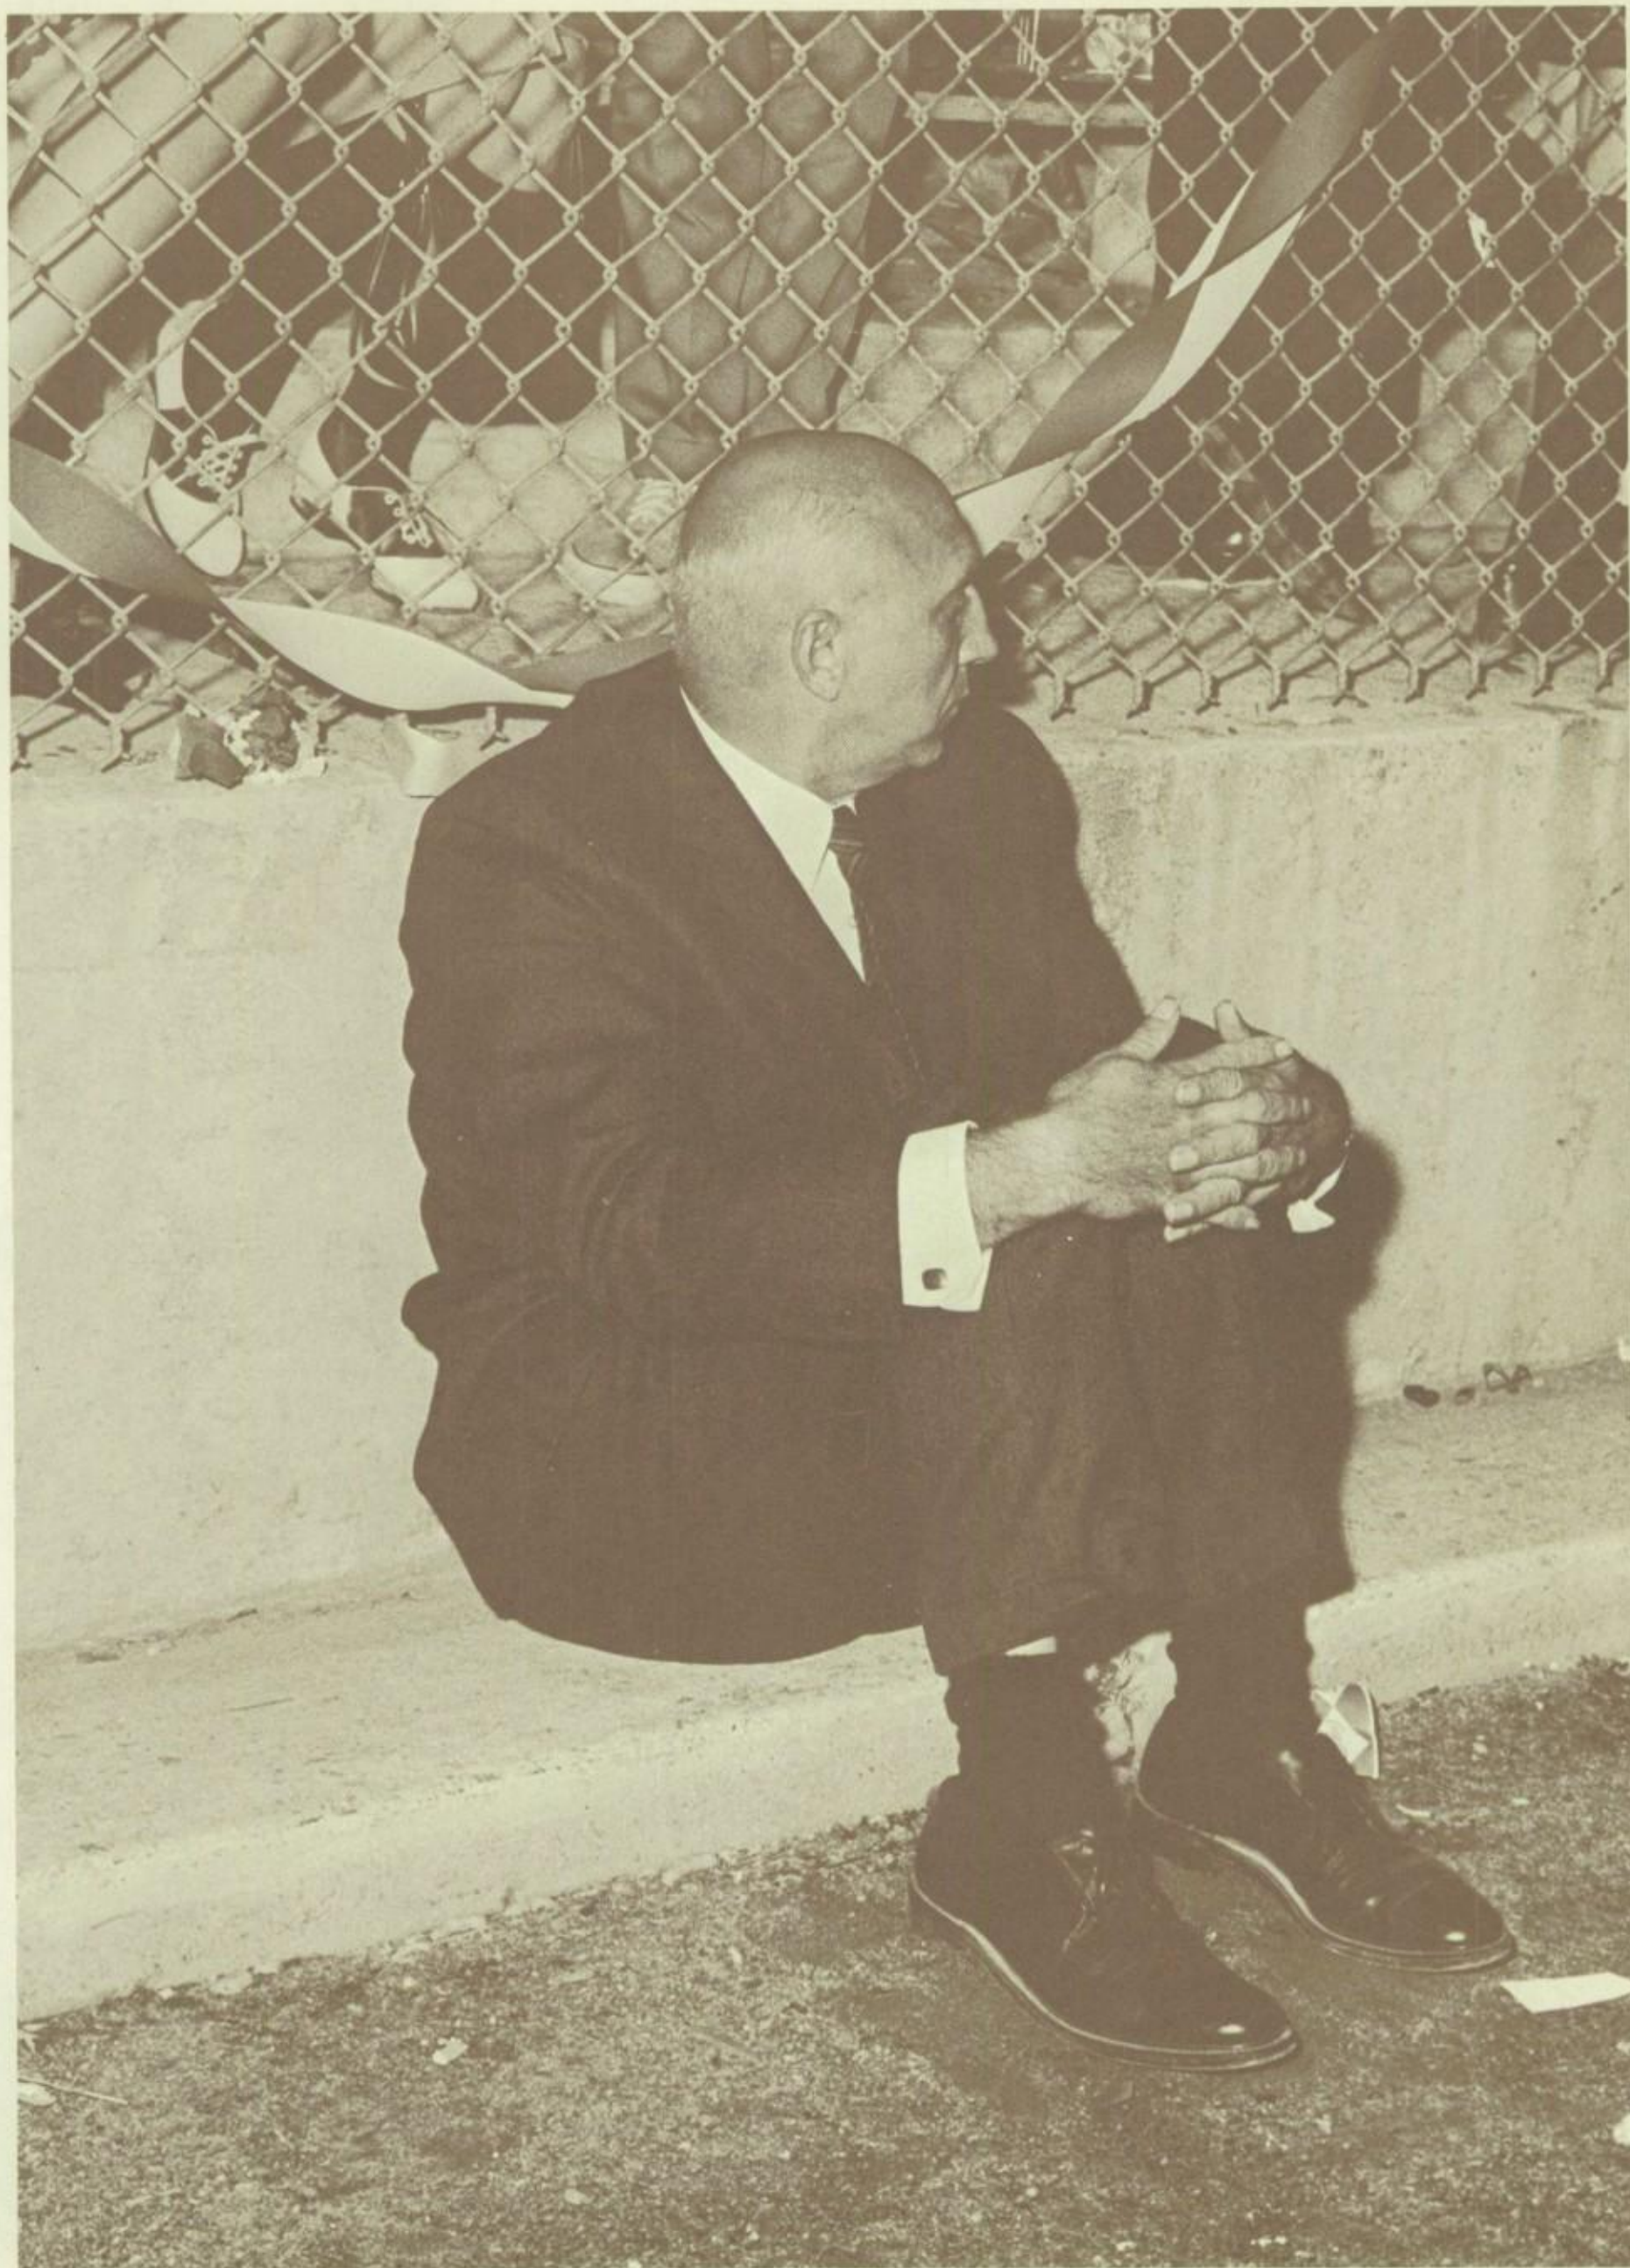

Cooperation . . . people together performing duties necessary for the smooth running of Dreher . . . schedules . . . athletics . . . publications . . . Sometimes, however, the burden rests solely on one person . . . decisions . . .

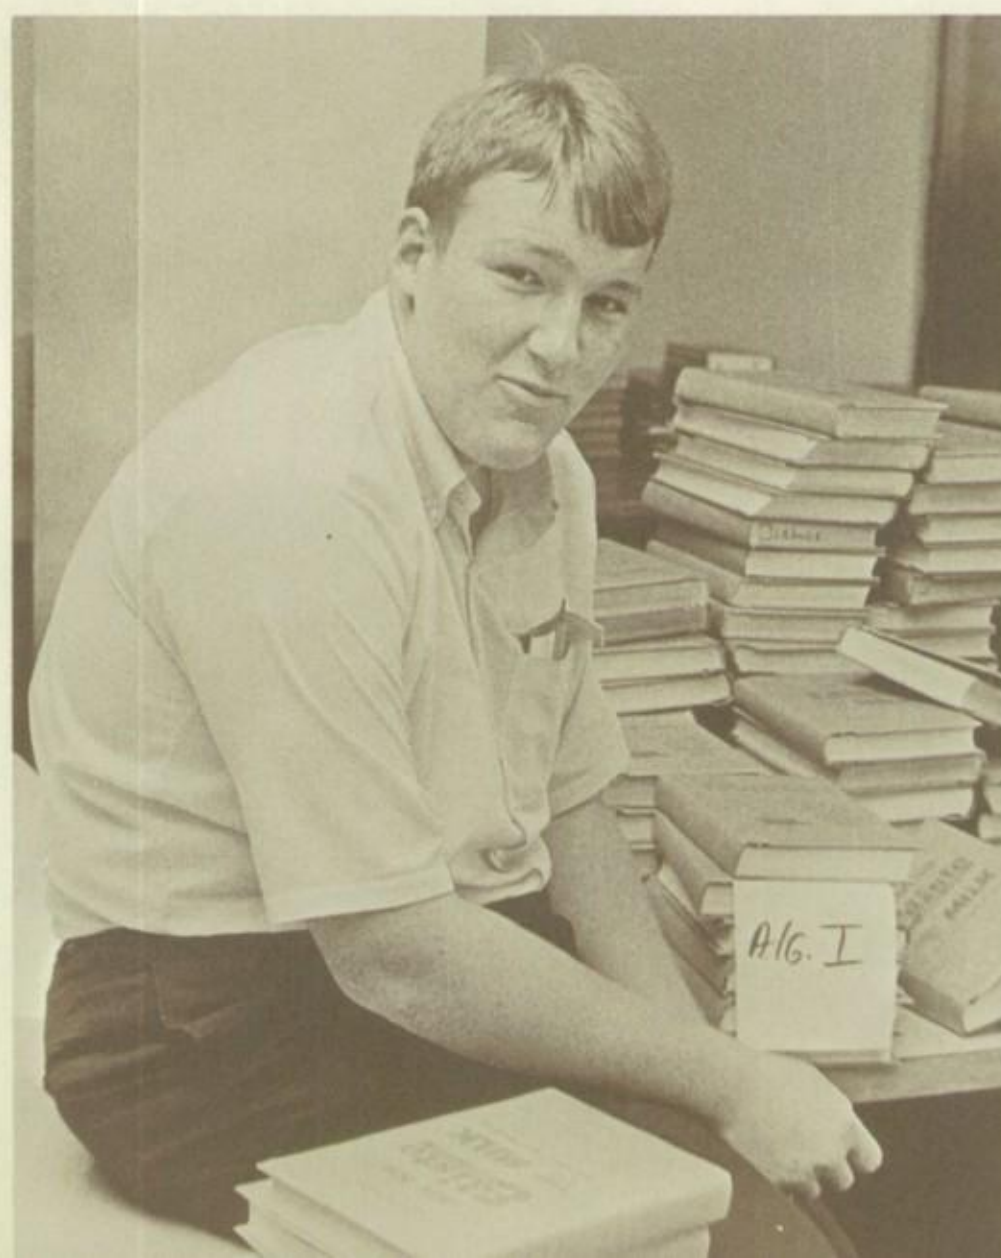

Even amidst the complexity of life . . . academic struggle . . . activity involvement . . . personal problems . . . there is still time for the individual to be alone . . . for meditation . . . reflection . . .

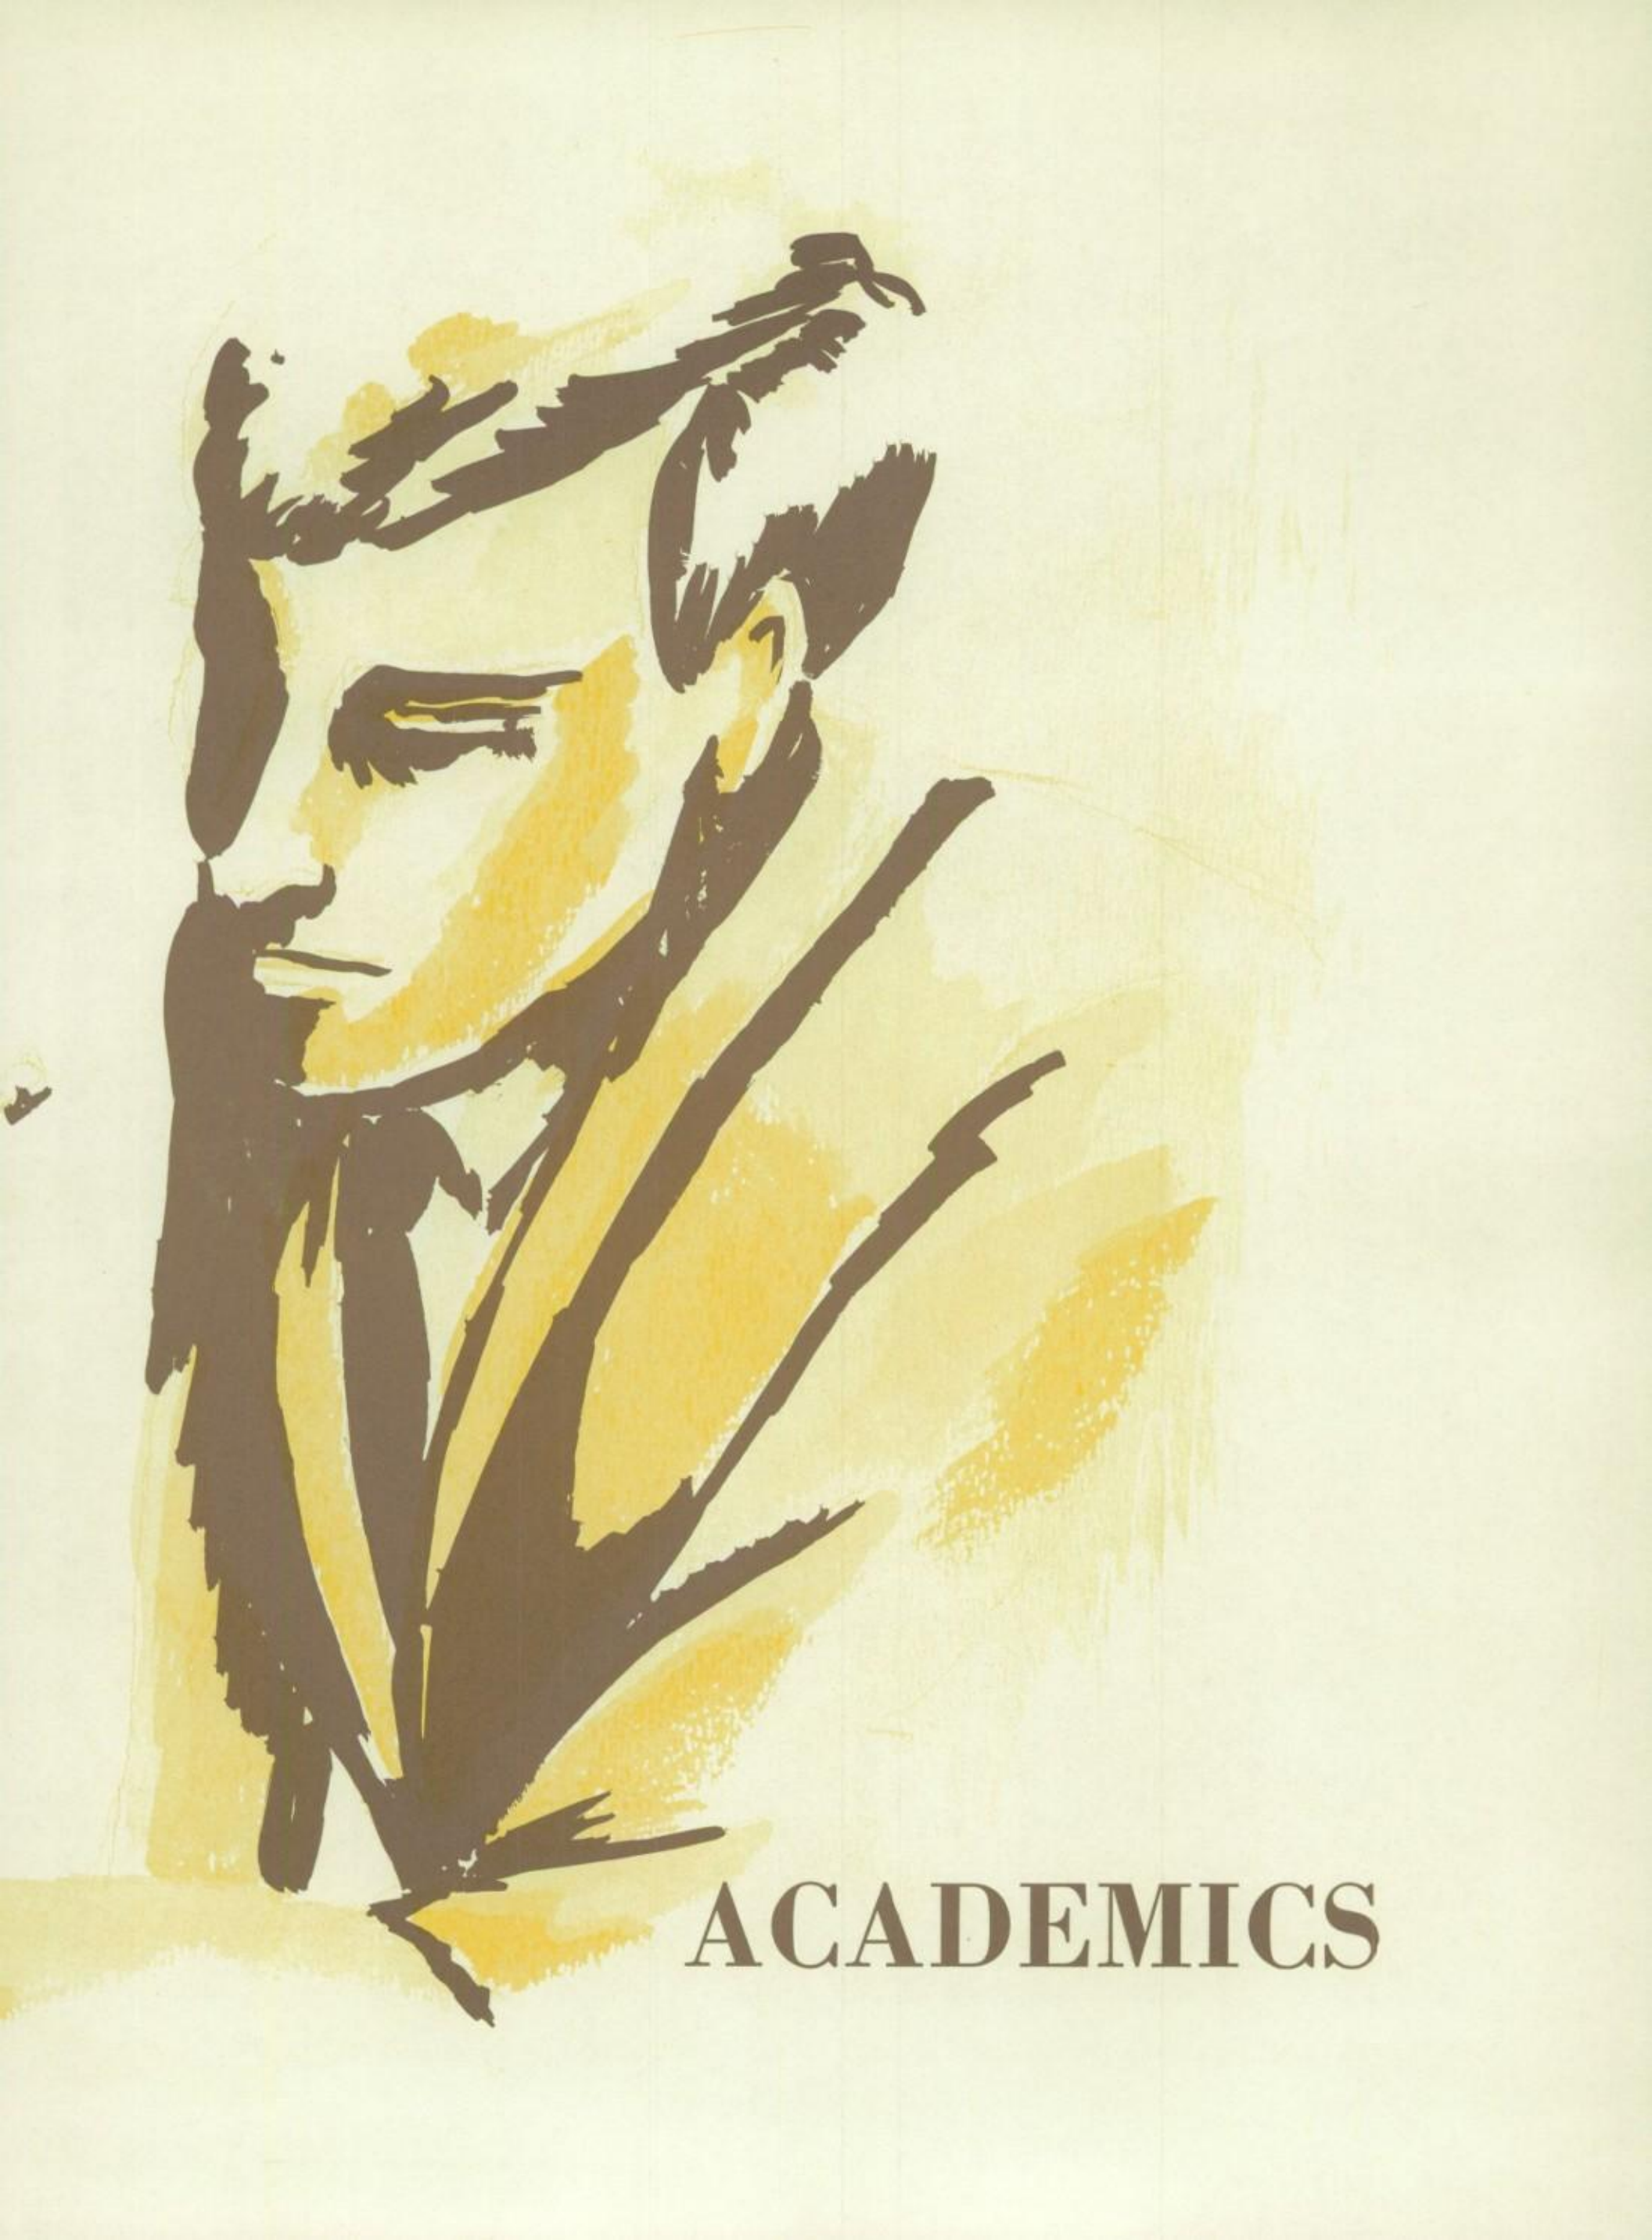

ACADEMICS

MRS. ELIZA STONE, elected Distinguished Teacher by the class of 1968 and the BLUE DEVIL STAFF.

A teacher whose career is an uncompromising battle against mediocrity, apathy, immaturity . . . to whom "responsibility" is more than a word, and "honor" is a way of life . . . whose commitment is to foster a thirst for understanding and the pride of achievement . . . who is genuinely concerned with an individual's worth . . . whose approval is treasured because it must be earned.

"I am nothing if not critical."

—William Shakespeare, "Othello"

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. and Mrs. Guy L. Varn enthusiastically greet parents at Booster Club reception. As part of his duties as Superintendent of the Columbia City Schools, Dr. Varn enjoys personal contact through school functions.

Busy as usual, assistant principal Mrs. Ruth Woodruff studies ways to make the school run smoothly.

Principal Arlie Whittinghill is shown beside Anna Hyatt Huntington's "Lioness and Cubs" in the front hall.

Dr. David Johnson, Dreher's disciplinarian, shows consternation over a student's poor attendance record. Violators of the school's rules are familiar with the little slips of white paper which mean an invitation to his office.

Taking a break from their hectic secretarial duties, Mrs. Fincher and Mrs. Reed enjoy a moment of conversation.

Mr. Harold Phillips schedules students to classes and takes care of any necessary changes.

Elizabeth, As the year draws to a close we say goodbye to our wonderful school. Well, as I think, I don't think I'll see you as a little freshman. I see you as a sweet, young girl with some love for improvement! STAG I AS SWEET AS you ARE! (SFE)

Working behind the scenes, Mrs. J. K. Henry is responsible for the scheduling of Dreher's many activities.

Love, Skel (senior '65)

GUIDANCE

As Scholarship Counselor, Miss Pattie Parker stays on the alert for available scholarships.

In addition to her other duties as Guidance Center secretary, Mrs. Vin she takes a list of references from Anne Leichtle.

Mrs. Frances Wyndham, Guidance Director, is shown planning her week's activities.

ps with the preparation of transcripts; here

Miss Lucile Hewlett smiles as another of her seniors is accepted at the college of his choice. As College Advisor, she is always available for counsel and advice.

Mrs. Maude Simpson, in charge of all exiting students, searches the files for a student's records.

ENGLISH

Caught in a rare moment behind her desk, Miss Hewlett discourses on the Romantic Poets.

Compositions provide an outlet for creative expression for Debbie Krell.

Mrs. Betty Smoak explains symbolism in "The Scarlet Letter."

The English department is the largest and by its nature the most comprehensive at Dreher. Besides the regular four-year academic program, it encompasses a wide variety of supplementary and enrichment courses; such courses as vocabulary and great books, creative writing, speech, and dramatics provide students with an opportunity for both appreciation of literature and application of language techniques. Talented English students are offered a complete advanced placement program, which concentrates on literature and analytical writing in preparation for advanced college work. Of the three Dreher students entering the contest sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English, one was declared a national winner and one a runner-up; Dreher was the only school in the state to produce two winners.

These awards, and the number of students' entries accepted in such publications as "The National Essay Anthology," "The National Poetry Anthology," and "The South Carolina Literary Yearbook," prove that the English department is continuing in its tradition of prize-winning excellence.

LANGUAGE

"Oui, j'ai faim." French II students listen as Mrs. Bannister uses audio-visual materials to develop oral proficiency.

The potential language student at Dreher may have difficulty in deciding which of the five excellent language programs to take advantage of; he has his choice of French, Spanish, German, Russian, or Latin. In the modern language courses, the emphasis is on speaking and comprehension. No English is spoken in the classroom, and the class is taught entirely through the use of audio-visual materials and practice in the language labs. After developing a degree of fluency in the spoken language, the student is introduced to the literature and history of the country. The study of the Latin language is combined with the examination of the art, literature, and architecture of the early Romans; the number of students engaged in the study of Latin is proof that this classical language is not dead, but alive and flourishing.

Mrs. Redeker reviews Spanish verbs with Sonny Sims.

SOCIAL STUDIES

An education is worthless unless the student can apply his knowledge to his role as a productive member of society. The social studies department is primarily concerned with the student's understanding of the meaning of citizenship, and examines human relations with an emphasis on history and government.

Dreher's celebrated Humanities program is presented in coordination with the world history classes. Its purpose is to relate the achievements of various cultures to the forces which shaped them, and similarly to the enrichment of modern life.

Psychology is unique in the department in that it examines human behavior on an individual basis, stressing underlying motivation in an attempt to promote understanding and self-awareness.

Discussion groups stimulate interest and ideas in Mrs. Jackson's world history class.

Mrs. Kleckly is kept busy attending to the many details in her capacity as Humanities Secretary.

Mrs. Vaughan shows history students that the cultural contributions of an era are as important as dates and events.

Mrs. Johnson leads one of the spirited discussions for which her psychology classes are famous.

Mr. Dixon Owens puts his finger on the problem in his U. S. History class.

SCIENCE

The science department, headed by Mr. Park, is preoccupied with the imminent building of its new center, or which funds have already been appropriated. Additional space was necessary to cope with the increasing number of science-oriented students taking advantage of Dreher's extensive science curriculum. Science enthusiasts are offered a wide range of subjects, and after completing the science requirements, the ambitious may go on to higher levels of study in chemistry, physics, electronics, biology, and anatomy.

Charles Michal and Jim Collawn give total concentration to a lecture in Mr. Park's notorious physics class.

Biology I students are absorbed in their studies; Mrs. Clarkson stands ready to answer any questions.

MATHEMATICS

The math department has a dual purpose: to provide a sound academic background for the college-bound students and to give others a working knowledge of remedial math. For those interested only in practical applications, a two year remedial math course was piloted this year by Mrs. Margaret Stilwell. The mathematically inclined are offered a complete program of geometry and algebra, with an emphasis on mathematic theory in the A. P. classes. This program culminates with a unique analysis course, designed to smooth the way for the transition to calculus.

Expressions vary from joyous enlightenment to passive perplexity in Mrs. Pond's Algebra III class.

The Math Office hums as teachers correct papers, plan lessons, and discuss students' progress.

FINE ARTS

As much a part of education as academic study is the development of taste for art, music, and drama. The Fine Arts department stresses active participation, and appreciation of the great masterpieces comes naturally as students endeavor to project their own emotions onto canvas or stage. The overwhelming response to such projects as the production of Hart and Kaufman's "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and the Art Council Bazaar testify to their success, and Dreher may be proud of the talent which it continues to foster and bring to light.

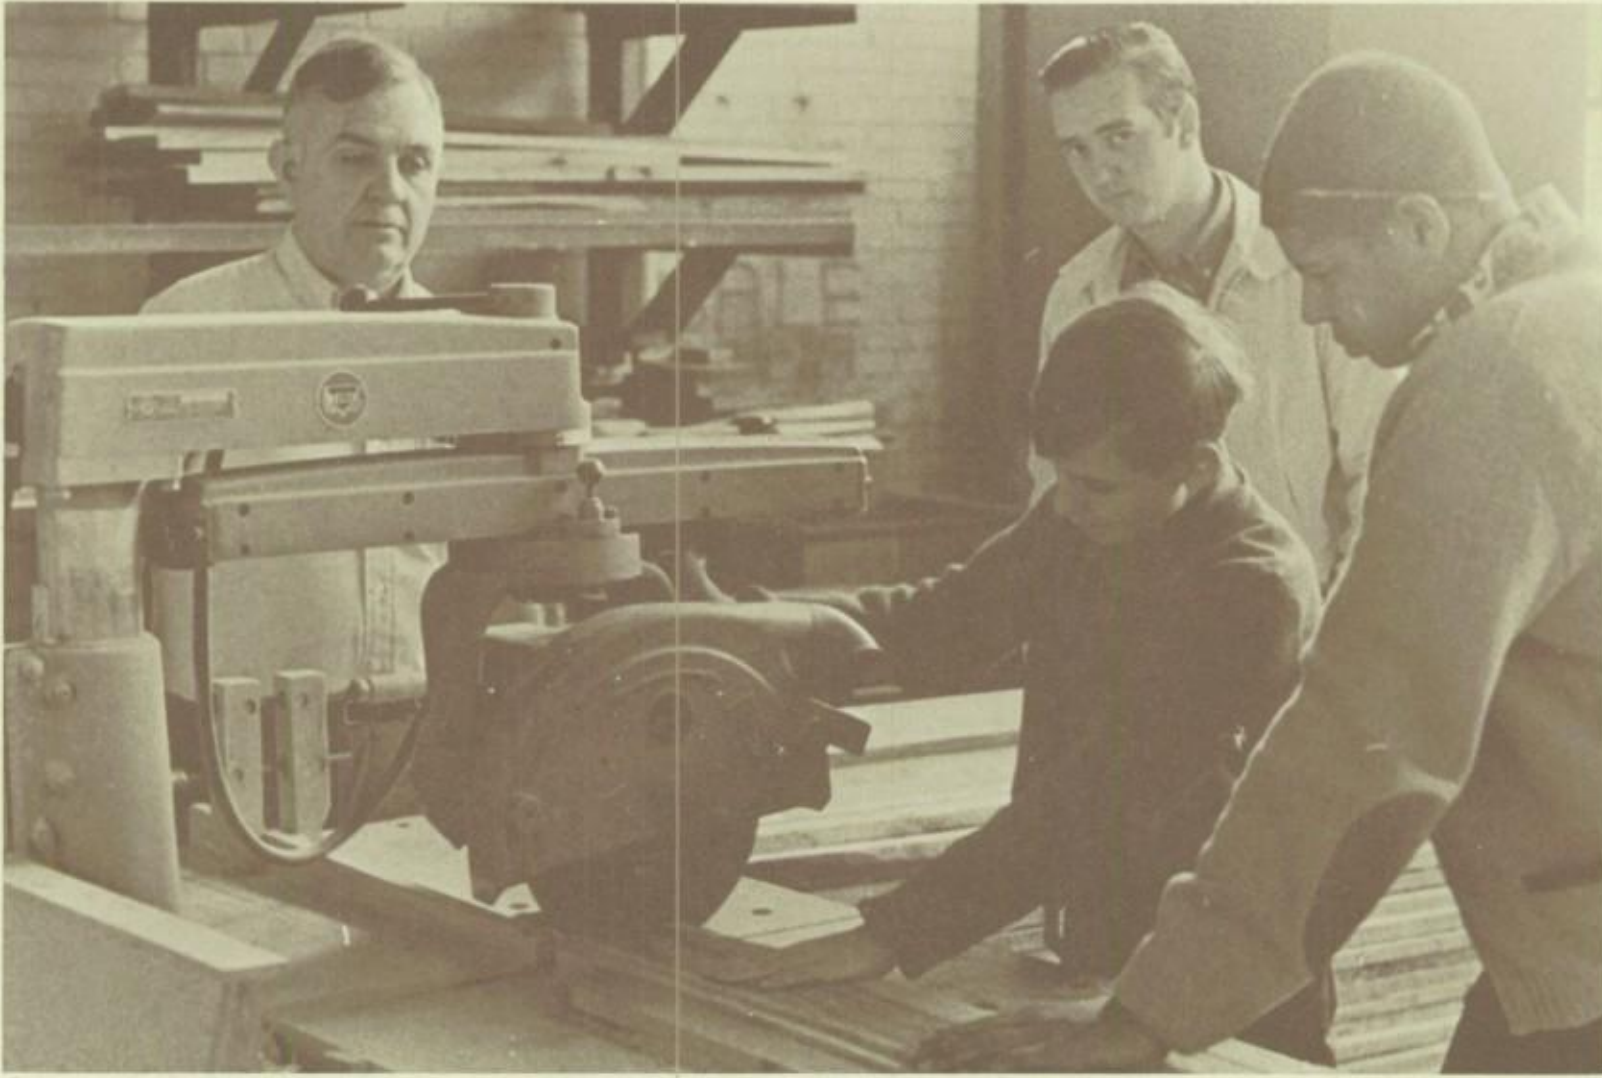

Gregory Leevy waits impatiently for Linda Hanlin to put the finishing touches on his makeup before the Fine Arts' presentation of "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

Mrs. Ralph Floyd, art teacher, constantly leads the crusade for art appreciation at Dreher.

VOCATIONAL ARTS

Mr. Duke watches attentively as woodwork students demonstrate their dexterity.

Whether a student studies the vocational arts exclusively or to supplement academic courses, he can be sure of developing skills that will serve him throughout his life. Such courses as typing, shorthand, mechanical drawing, and woodwork have obvious value in the business world.

HOME ECONOMICS

Home Economic students enjoy the feeling of self-sufficiency that comes with learning to make their own clothes.

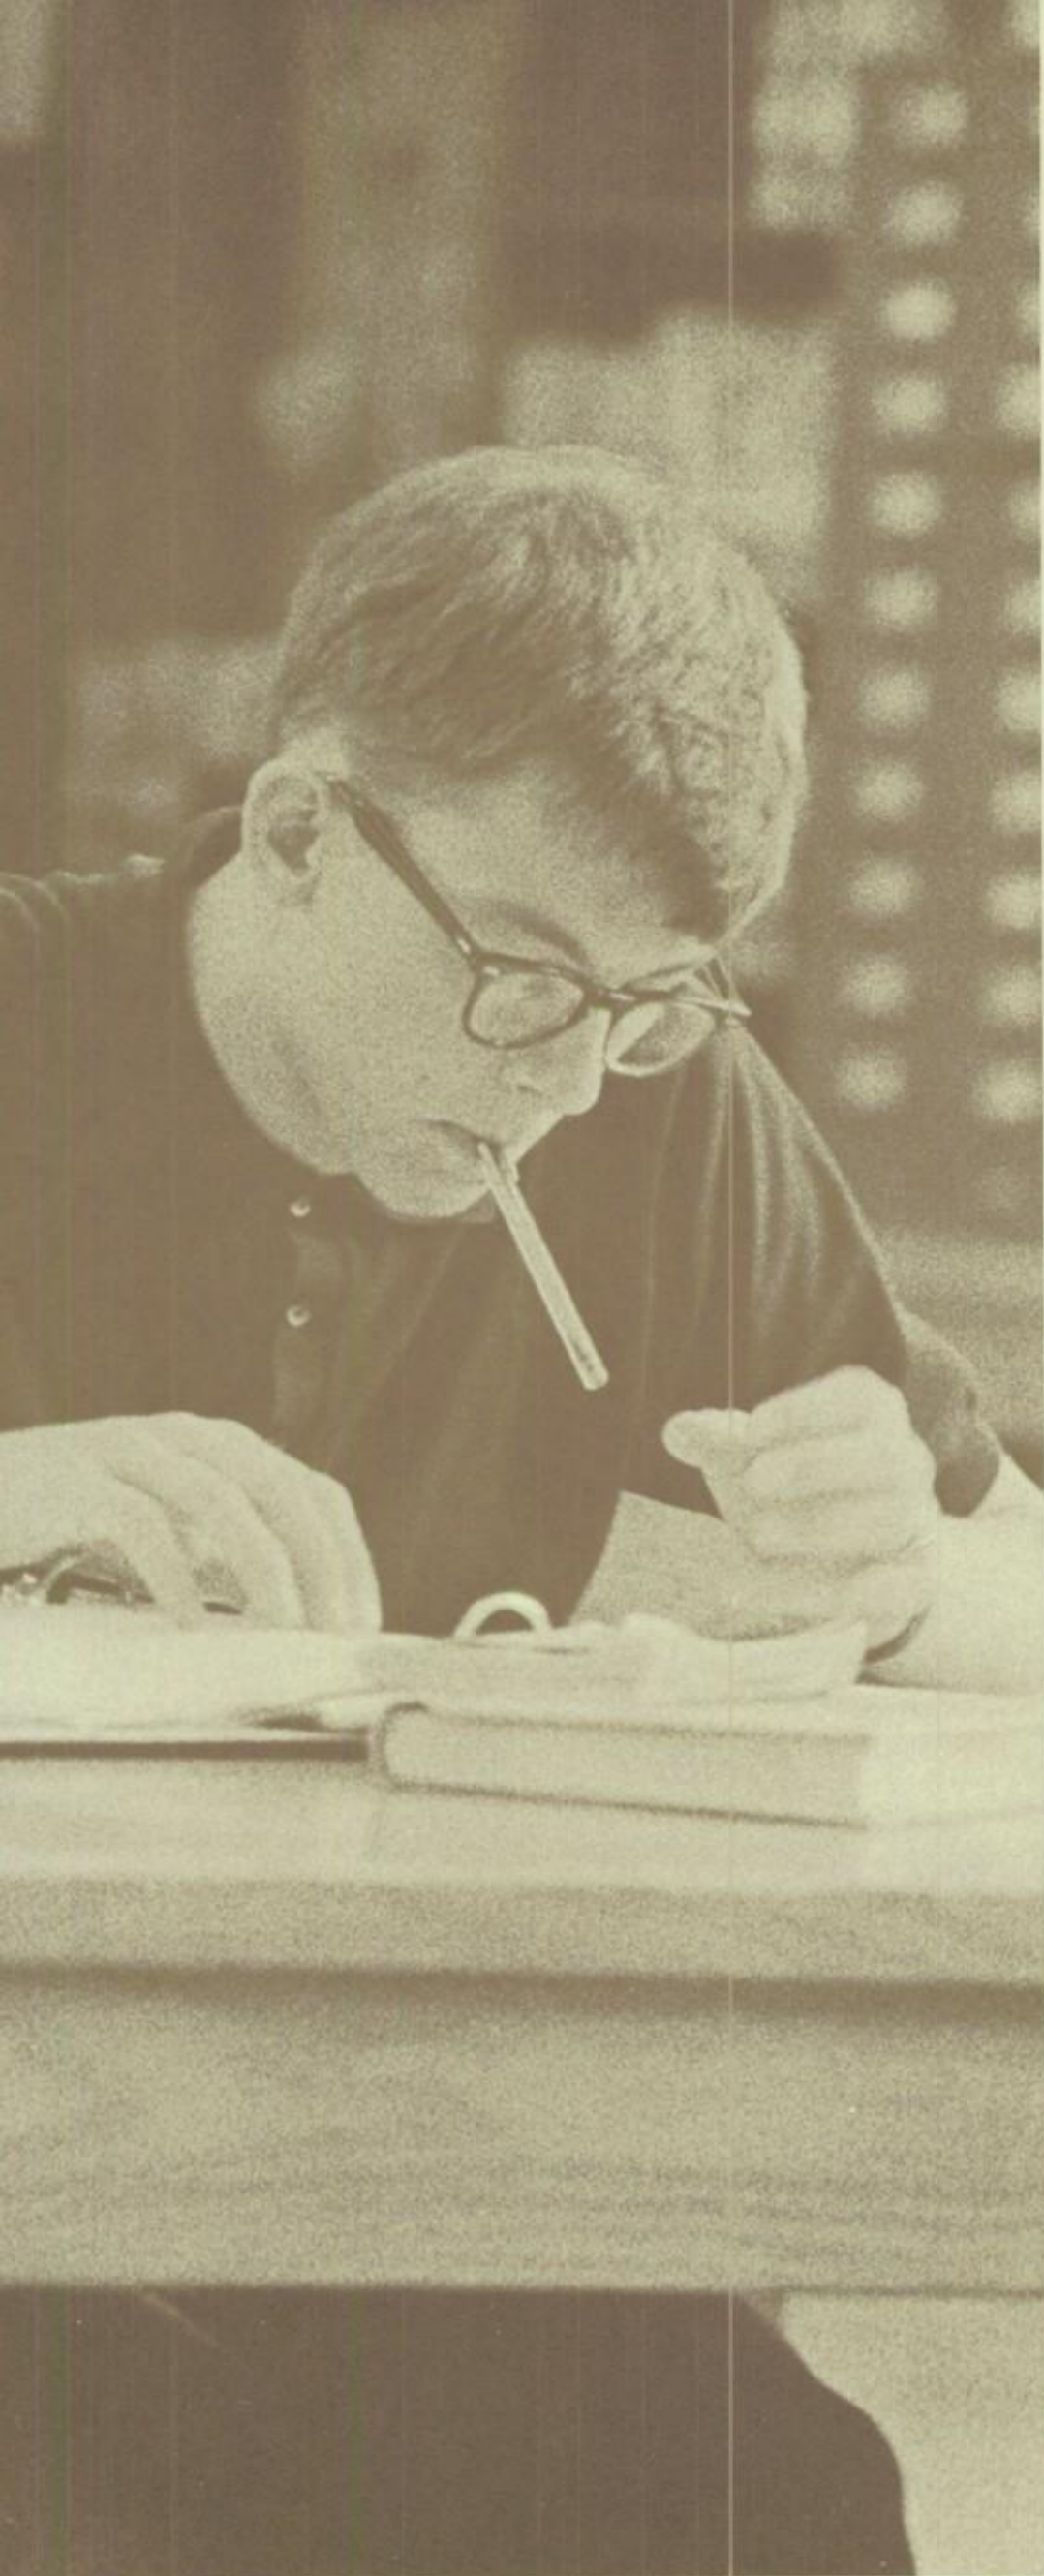

If education is a preparation for life, it would be a grave mistake to neglect that part of an education which equips a woman to cope with the demands which will be placed on her as a wife or independent homemaker. The Home Economics department is to be commended for the training which domestic-minded girls receive in the large, well-equipped sewing and cooking rooms under Miss Ellen MacLauchlin's guidance.

Miss MacLauchlin's sixth period cooking class enjoys the fruit of their labor.

LIBRARY

Teresa Tison makes good use of the library in the pursuit of higher learning.

For Jim Cain the library provides a quiet refuge where he can work undisturbed.

ACTIVITIES

Known for her animated hall discussions, Mrs. Lois Johnson, Student Council sponsor, stops first semester Vice-President and President, Lex Rogerson and Tom Elliott, to confer on the increased problem of hall congestion.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Highly respected throughout the state and Southeast, Dreher's Student Council originates and organizes many of the activities executed within this region. In addition to traditional Council projects, such as a candy sale and collections at Thanksgiving and Christmas, Student Council this year broadened its scope in many areas. Mrs. Lois Johnson, the enthusiastic sponsor, who also serves as president of Student Council Advisors of South Carolina, attended a program-planning session in New Orleans earlier this year. Dreher students also represented the school at several Student Council conventions.

Realizing the importance of education and better international relations, Council co-operated with the Peace Corps, providing one thousand dollars for the construction of a school in an underdeveloped country. In continued support of Dreher's adopted squadron in Vietnam, toys, books, soap, paper, and clothes were sent to both the soldiers and Vietnamese children.

Members also encouraged the students to collect gifts of clothing and food for the needy and to raise over seven hundred dollars selling candy. Thus relying upon the efforts of the entire student body for success, this year's Student Council proved that through co-operation a great deal can be accomplished.

Jean Southard, Peggy Jervey, Trina Hunt, Kristen Shealy, Chairman Harriet Nettles, and Peggy Kline prepare packages for shipment to Vietnam. Harriet's original ideas, which encouraged greater student participation in the projects, gave a new incentive to Dreher's Vietnam program.

Second semester President Jimmy Stands works on committee assignments with Martha Windham and Treasurer Doris Collins while first semester Secretary Salley Bryan reviews minutes with Kathy Hyman.

Under the auspices of Student Council, The Football Programs Committee began work during the summer by selling and planning the layout. Supervised by Mrs. Lois Johnson, Louise Gibbs, Chairman, and Laurie Boyle examine a finished program.

Forensic class provides an ideal environment for the development of each debater's individual style and mode of presentation. Taylor Brittain cross-examines his opponent Bobby Stepp in a classroom debate while their respective partners Kevin Borgstedt and Charles Fritz take notes.

Known as a notorious communication center, the forensic lounge harbors Polly Grimball, Sally Clarkson, Gherry Poteat, and David Hodges as they frolic during lunch.

The victory at Nashville, Tennessee, resulted in the capture of the first place in the Nation for the Dreher Debate Team. Never before has a school in South Carolina, or even in the Southeast, won such an honor. This award exemplifies the improved education in South Carolina, for the recipients must have an excellent background in all areas of study.

With the graduation of the senior debators, the Forensic League was faced with the job of rebuilding its team. This year's team participated in both local and out-of-state tournaments such as one held in New York in January. These events gave the students valuable experience in public speaking.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

After placing 5th in the Nation in 1966, the Dreher Forensic League once again travelled to Nationals determined to exhibit their skill. The result in Nashville was the capturing of National Debate Championship by debators Lyndon Smith and Dick Fritz. Above, Lyndon Smith, Scott Belser, Coach Jimmy Mann, and Dick Fritz are congratulated at Dreher upon their return.

No school group travels so many miles to so many places as does the Forensic League. Shown here at the Columbia station, debators Charles Cooper, Betsy Pabst, Anne Dantzler, and Jim Reynolds wait for their train to a tournament in New York City. Dreher was also represented in competition in Bluefield West Virginia; High Point, North Carolina; Irwin, Tennessee; Atlanta, Georgia; and Washington, D. C.

Under Mrs. Romey's meticulous supervision, Liza Maass, Ivey Nexsen, and Cantey Wright attend to the budgetary minutiae of the tickets for the Miss Blue Devil Pageant. Absent: Steve Cannon.

Hard at work in room 223: Bob Eggleston, Lewis Galloway, Leone Castles, Sandy Brunk and Susalee Eggleston.

The eternally messy BLUE DEVIL room produces a creative atmosphere in which staff members Molly Daniel and Chris Sloan select pictures for publication.

BLUE DEVIL

Beginning the year with a first place in the Yearbook competition at the Columbia University Scholastic Press Association, the BLUE DEVIL once again placed the emphasis on in-depth reporting in the yearbook. The staff continued its innovations by initiating color sketches on the division pages and by using a new quality paper. The staff also sponsored the Miss Blue Devil Pageant which not only adds excitement to the selection of the beauties, but also provides the yearbook with a strong financial foundation.

HONOR BOARD

In 1961 the Dreher student body, through the efforts of the Student Council, voted to accept an honor system that could guide the students in their efforts to make Dreher stronger and greater. This honor system, a pioneer effort among South Carolina high schools, is now recognized as a workable system which enables students to assume responsibility for themselves and the school.

As a result of student action, the Honor Board was created as a supportive and counseling group. This body of nine students counsels with students who have not conducted themselves in a manner becoming a member of the Dreher student body in such matters as honesty, regard for school practices, and the like. Composed of four seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores, the Board then seeks to help the student by discussing his conduct with him.

The Honor Board, in its concern for positive and responsible attitudes and actions, serves in one of the most important capacities at Dreher.

Hiding their exuberant personalities under serious facades, Mrs. Susan Dillon and Mrs. Eliza Stone, sponsors of the Honor Board, review the cases planned for the day's session.

The Honor Board's patient "vigilantes," Charlie Spigner, Warren Powell, Mary Ann Galloway, Susan Parks, Caroline Gibbes, Anne Hollingsworth, Anne Allison, and Carey Burnett, stand out as Dreher's pathfinders. Absent: Cantey Wright.

LITERARY YEARBOOK

In high school the average student begins to express himself through poetry, essays, short stories, and other forms of literary effort. It is the purpose of the Literary Yearbook to serve as an outlet for the best of these expressions, as it has been doing since 1941.

Sponsored by Mrs. Margaret Gibbs, Mrs. Lila Meeks, and Mr. Ray King, the staff channeled the submission of articles through the English Department. After selection by the Columbia Quill Society, the approved contributions were edited into unified publication—The Dreher LITERARY YEARBOOK.

BLUE PRINT

Desperately trying to get the headliner machine to work are Feature Editor Tyler Przekop and News Editor Marsha Kaplan, while Sports Editor Donnie Futch and Editor-in-Chief Gloria Harrell review material for the next edition. Other staff members include Business Managers Salley Bryan and Anne Corder, Cartoonist Kris Cathey, Circulation Manager Joe McElveen, and Reporters Mark Pachak, Sally Clarkson, Polly Grimball, Bevan Harkey, Debbie Litman, Susan Craig, Helen Long, Joe Munnerlyn, Caroly Strasburger, Charles Cooper, Terri Hearn, Jennie Clarkson, Bill Train, Burke Graham, and Keith Richardson.

Keeping the student body well informed requires a forceful and unified effort on the part of the whole BLUE PRINT staff. Articles on productions and assemblies and write-ups of the projects of different school organizations create interest and awareness of the activities carried on at Dreher. The tri-weekly publication also allows students to express their views on controversial issues by writing letters to the editor.

CHEERLEADERS

Perhaps no organization at Dreher does so much work both "behind the scenes" as well as before the student body as do the cheerleaders. Working in a dingy little room behind the auditorium, the nine juniors and seniors who comprise the group work long after hours painting posters, making pom-poms, writing and rehearsing skits, and practicing the cheers. It is the cheerleaders who must try to squeeze spirit out of the sometimes small crowds at Hand when the team is hopelessly behind; it is the cheerleaders who must yell loudly in the courtyard while students watch impassively from the windows; and it is the cheerleaders who must constantly give up weekends to travel to all parts of the state to give spirit to the team. Perhaps it is, in comparison, a glamorous job, but the glamour comes only after hard work.

The antics of the cheerleaders added much laughter to the weekly assemblies. Here Peggy Jervey, Alice Holler, and Anne Hollingsworth present the skit "Alakazam."

Peggy Jervey, Jimmy Stands, Debbie Hutchison, Sonny Sims, and Wilmot Irvin "take five" during a game.

Returning to Dreher, Sally Swann Carr, talented creator of the courtyard fountain, delighted in the school's growing art collection. Above, Mrs. Lois Johnson captures the sculptor's attention by relating the work planned to beautify the courtyard, while Mrs. Ralph Floyd, Art Council sponsor, and Mr. J. K. Blum, former Dreher principal, listen.

ART COUNCIL

Incessantly trying to arrange interesting exhibits for the benefit of the students, Art Council frequently changes the displays in the hall cases. Belvin Turnbull and Judy Darazs, 2nd semester president, attend to the placement of statuary.

One of the singular features of Dreher is its private art collection, maintained by the Art Council, whose members employ their talents to raise funds used to purchase artistic works, including both originals and reproductions. The Council's major money-making project is the Christmas Bazaar where paintings, ceramics, and curios are sold.

Other activities of the Art Council include exhibits at the State Fair, U.S.C., Pembroke College, and the Springs-Mills Exhibition in Lancaster. A number of Dreher students also received recognition in the Scholastic Art Awards competition and in various poster contests. The Council assisted with scenery for the Fine Arts Production, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and ended the year with an exhibit of student work in the spring.

One of the Art Council's projects this year was the purchase of a new potter's wheel. Creative James Harper, 1st semester president, demonstrates his artistic ability by molding a ceramic bowl.

The realization of Anchor Club Workday requires long hours of planning, letter writing, typing, and soliciting businesses. President Caroline Gibbes draws posters with Workday Chairman Jane Adcock to promote the event.

The year of '67-'68 saw Dreher's Anchor Club in full swing as usual. Since its institution in 1959, as a girls' service organization sponsored by Pilot International, the Anchor Club at Dreher has continued to uphold traditions of service and usefulness to the school and community.

This year the Anchor Club's responsibilities included cleaning up the girls' rest rooms, sponsoring the Newcomers' Club, collecting for the March of Dimes, and even serving breakfast to three hundred businessmen of E. B. Day. Their services also included the "Smoking Project," which involved showing films and explaining the dangers of smoking to sixth graders.

A successful Work-Day was held on March 22, with approximately two hundred students working in Columbia businesses and contributing their pay to a scholarship fund. From this fund, a scholarship helped a graduating Dreherite continue his education.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Margaret C. Stilwell and Mrs. Eileen Vaughan, the Anchor Club concluded a busy year in May.

In continuing its Smoking Project, Anchor Club members visited Columbia schools to demonstrate the hazards of smoking. Here, Elizabeth Hane and Betsy Pabst use the overhead projector in talking with the sixth graders at Rosewood Elementary School.

Steve Cannon, Charles Cooper, Lewis Galloway, and Cantey Wright pack light bulbs preparing for the sale.

KEY CLUB

Ranging from such menial tasks as putting up the flag and cleaning the trophy cases to sponsoring the Key Club Variety Show, which brings in over $2,000 annually, the Key Club has always been one of the most active organizations at Dreher. Under a membership of 35, the club worked for a closer relationship with its parent organization, Kiwanis International.

Projects began in the early fall with the annual fund raising project, the light bulb sale, at which over two hundred dollars was raised. Certainly the most enjoyable projects for the members were the big brother days, in which 9 to 13 year old boys from Carolina Children's Home were taken to such places as the Lake Murray Power Plant, a firepower demonstration at Fort Jackson, and the Dreher-Spartanburg basketball game. The year was climaxed by the presentation of the Key Club Scholarship to an outstanding senior.

Displaying a variety of emotions are Key Clubbers Lewis Galloway, Sandy Brunk, Craig Draffin, and Carl Springer with their "little brothers" from Carolina Children's Home at the Dreher-Spartanburg basketball game.

Painting sets for "C'est Paris," this year's Variety Show, and participating in the production act earned Kris Cathey honorary membership into the Key Club. Steve Cannon and Kris arrive early one Saturday to work.

Even when football victories were far apart, the band never failed to demonstrate euphonic spirit.

Leading promoter of the Columbia Youth Concert, Dreher received a visit from the noted Donald Voorhees, Conductor of the Bell Telephone Symphony Orchestra. The band played; the chorus sang; Voorhees lectured.

BAND

Through the efforts of band director Mr. Paul Bodie the Dreher High Marching Blue Devils began the year proudly at the Eau Claire game with their new concert and parade uniforms, valued at $7,000. Besides the usual duties of marching at the football games and participating in the Fire Prevention Week parade, the band extended its activities to include a Thanksgiving and a Spring concert. The highlight of the year was its hosting of the annual State Band Festival, involving schools from throughout the state.

CHORUS

In December members of the Dreher Choral Ensemble were honored by an invitation to participate in the first city-wide Youth Concert presented by the Columbia Festival Orchestra, which featured Donald Voorhees, noted conductor of the Bell Telephone Hour Orchestra. Miss Marianne Holland, also a guest conductor, directed both the orchestra and the chorus in the performance of two seasonal selections.

The chorus' participation in such activities as the Governor's first Carolighting, the University Christmas Festival, and local radio and television programs, has brought much recognition throughout the city to Dreher.

But the Dreher Chorus' loyalty was first given to the school when the chorus performed in the Miss Blue Devil Pageant, in Humanities programs, and in school assemblies. Hosting the South Carolina Choral Clinic, the Dreher music department featured such clinicians as Arpad Darazs from the University of South Carolina and Gene Kenney from Texas Tech.

CLUBS

One of Dreher's revived clubs, Mu Alpha Theta, is an honorary math organization consisting of students who have shown strong ability in the field of mathematics. ABOVE, President Charles Michal explains the fundamental uses of the slide rule to Secretary Martha Windham and Vice-President Sandy Brunk.

Painting the cafeteria was one of the first activities of the newly created action and Service Club. It was formed to give students a chance to become a contributing part of the school. RIGHT, Chestley Price, Sponsor Mrs. Sue Elliott, President Oliver Washington, Andra Earle, and Daniel Hayman begin painting the lunchroom.

At the beginning of second semester students have the opportunity to join the Cheerleaders Club, in which the varsity cheerleaders instruct them in basic cheering techniques. ABOVE, Alice Holler and Sonny Sims prepare.

Another of Dreher's recently reinstated organizations is the J.E.T.S. Club which encourages interested science and math students to develop their abilities in these fields. Attending various state and local conventions, the members also contribute either science projects or papers to the State Science Fair. Sponsor John Austell, LEFT, speaks to the Club at a Tuesday night meeting.

Learning of Romulus and Remus, the Latin Club increases its knowledge of Roman myths and stories. This Club also sponsors an annual Roman banquet where Latin scholars, dressed in Augustan attire, practice "orgiastic" activities.

The Distributive Education Program teaches students interested in business various fundamental practices useful in one's career. In the D.E. Club, sponsored by Sales and Marketing Executives of America, Donald Weekly uses mannequins, Debbie and Ed Dreher, to demonstrate a problem in salesmanship.

The amount of work handled in the office requires a staff larger than the administration and secretaries; therefore, student assistants are a necessity in accomplishing various tasks. Aiding the administration by calling absentees, delivering notes, and operating the switchboard, these workers provide for a smoother flow of school business. RIGHT, Sandra Lever checks student addresses in the circular file.

BELOW, delightful Mrs. Virginia Van Setters listens as President George Brooks introduces guest speaker Mrs. Marie Lingle, Dreher's librarian, to the members of the Future Teachers of America Club.

Dreher Ends Football Season 5-5-1 Record

In the Sportsarama against Lower Richland, quarterback David Young, one of Dreher's brightest football prospects, hands off to running back Daniel Hayman, this season's offensive mainstay. Young, a sophomore, performed like an experienced senior, and looks forward to two more good seasons with the Dreher varsity.

Ronald Richardson and against Brookland-Cayce

Clark Hawthorn of Eau Claire is thrown for a five-yard loss by linebacker Ronald Richardson. The Blue Devils gave the state AAA champions their hardest fought contest of the year.

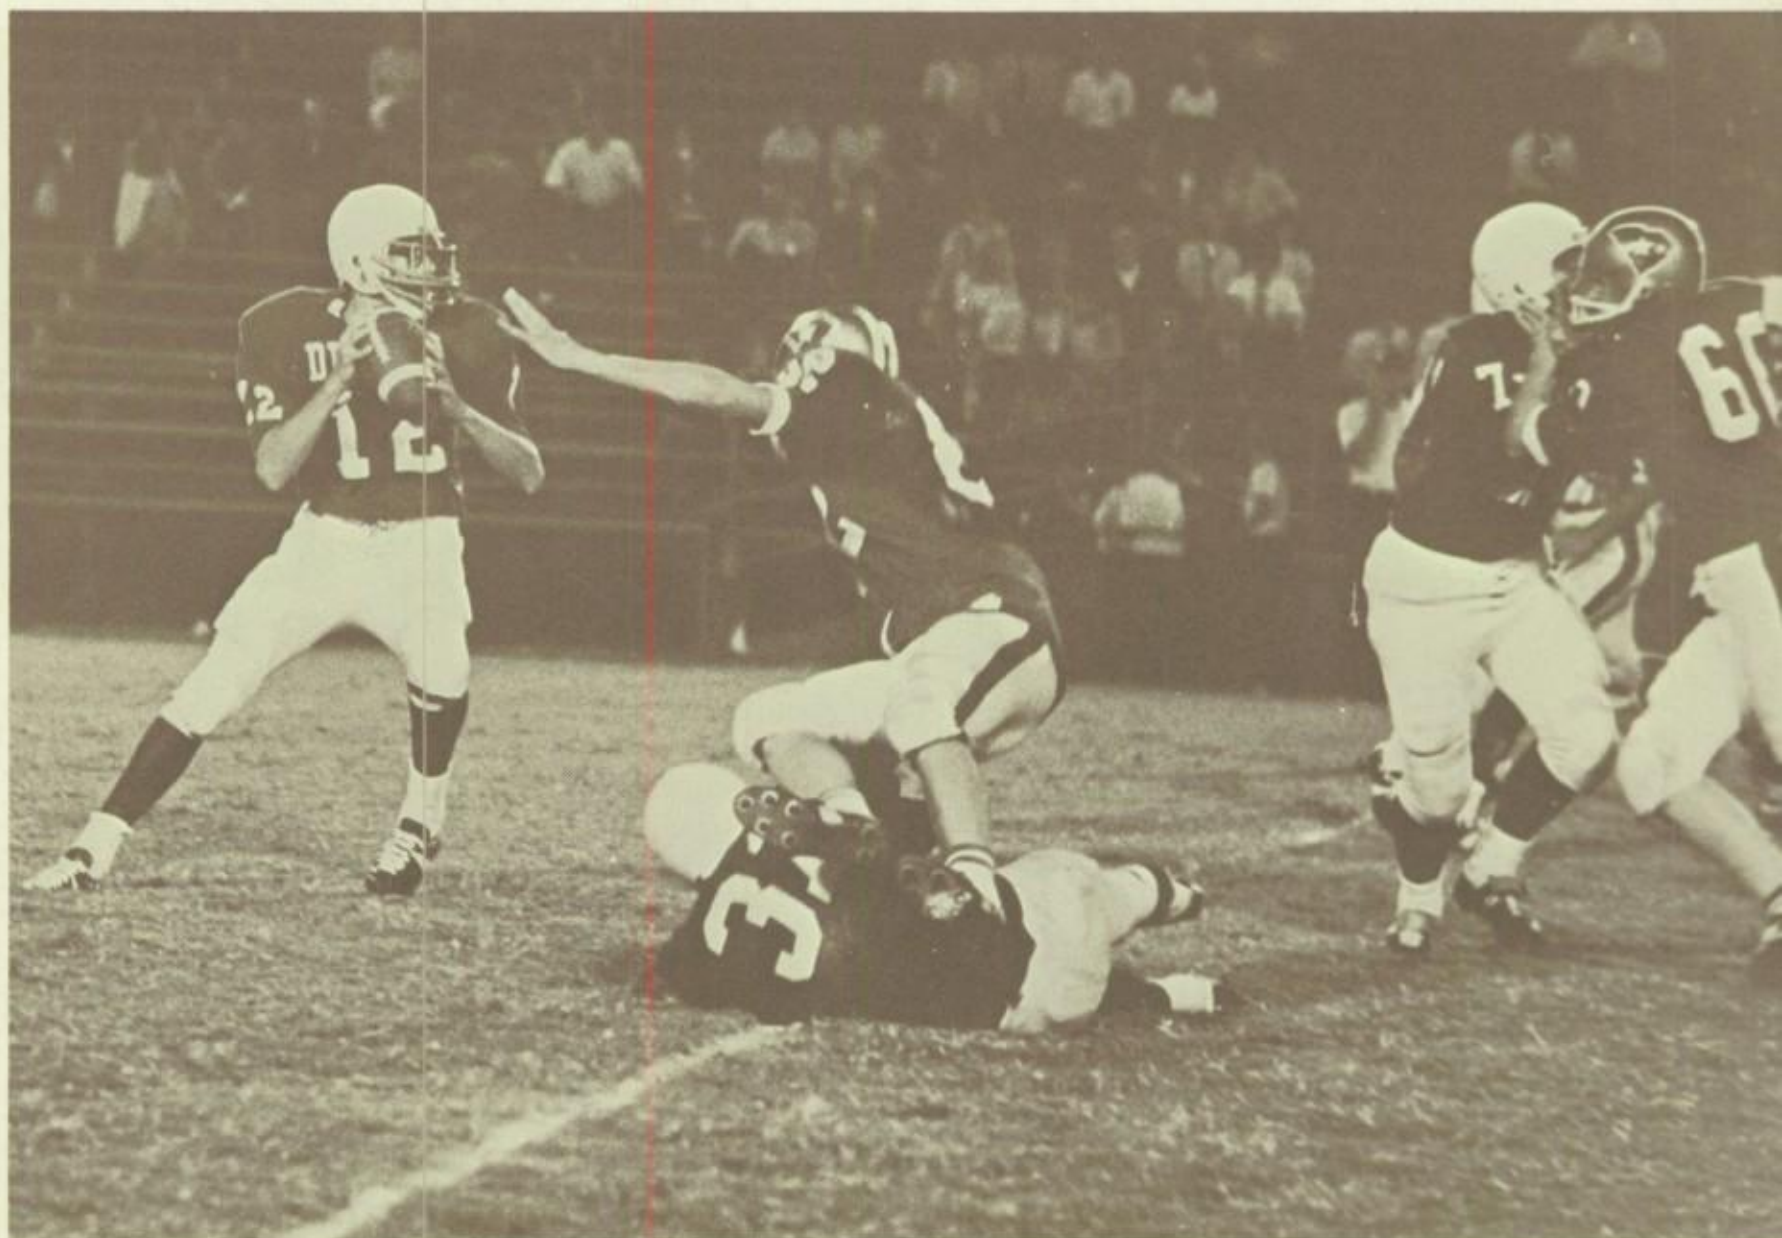

Jerome Williams move in for the kill in Dreher's third win of the season.

Daniel Hayman cuts the corner against a B.C. defender. Hayman's end sweeps were one of the most effective offensive plays of the season.

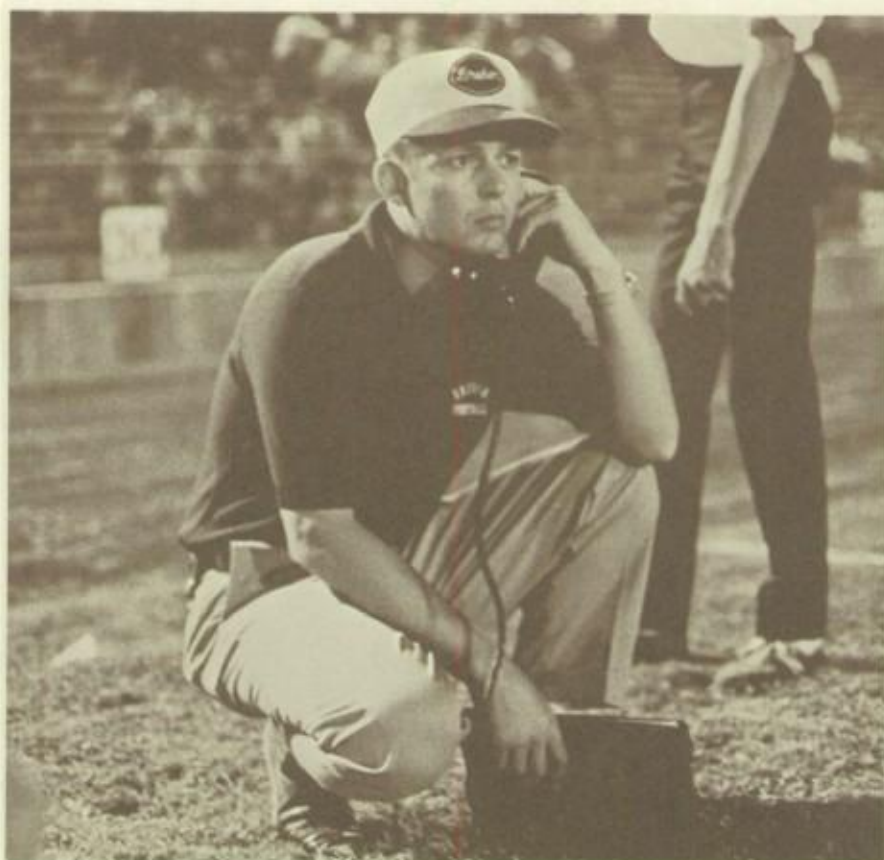

In the season's opener against former arch-rival Columbia High, Young sets to pass behind an unusual but effective block from Ted Heffner.

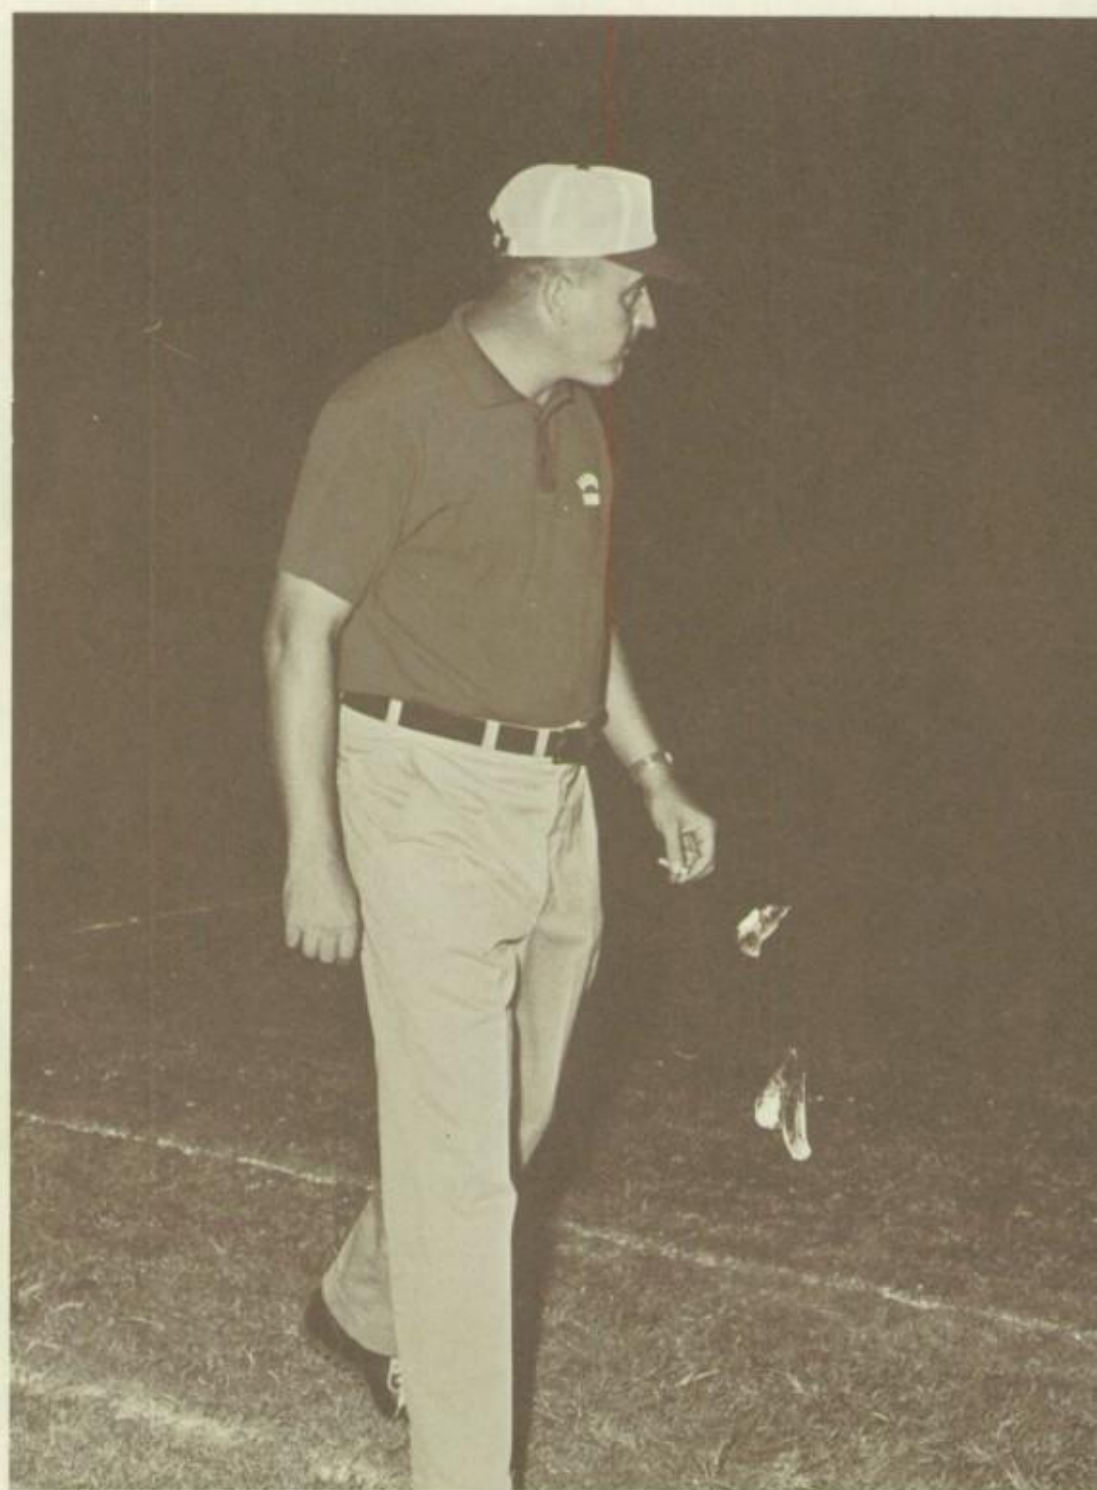

Tommy Brooks, in the final moments of the hard-fought contest against Flora, sweeps around the left end gaining valuable yardage. After seeking a victory for the last four years, the mighty Blue brought the Falcons to their knees in a decisive win.

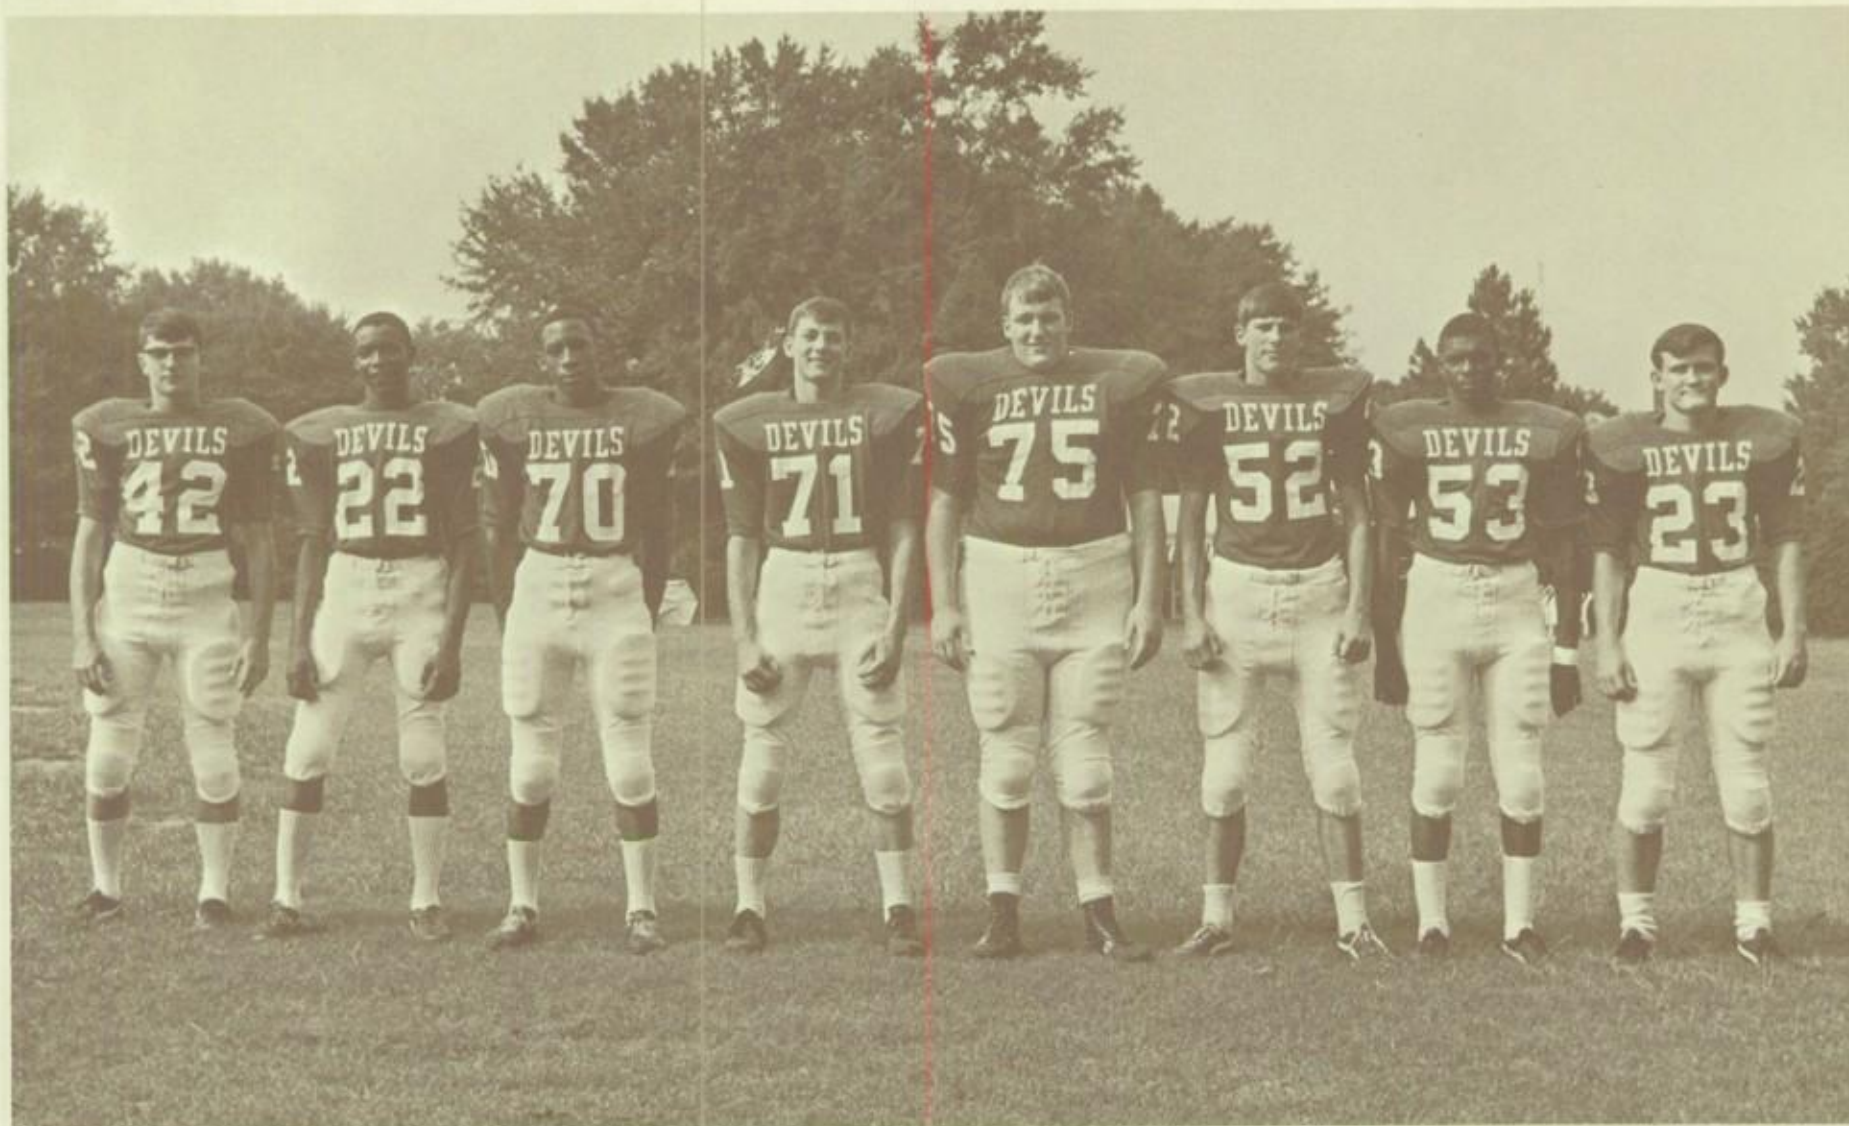

Coach Rankin receives information about the opposition's defensive positioning from his spotter placed above the press box.

SOCCER

After purchasing new equipment, the soccer team, a new edition to Dreher's athletic program, entered competition with other high school teams. Because of the lack of teams to play, the success of the team can only be measured by the interest and participation of the players. Under the direction of Coach Nicholson, the soccer team plans to compete in an eight team league and in an intramural soccer program next year.

Engaged in fierce competition against a strong Flora team are Desi Darazs and John Sydlowski.

BASKETBALL

A month before season play began, the Blue Devil basketball team began daily practices at the Hand gym. Under the direction of Coach Dixon Owens, the players were molded into a well-disciplined unit. Although the team was well practiced, experience in actual game play was lacking and the Blue Devils ended with a 10-12 record. However, there is a strong possibility that Dreher will rank high in the state next year because of a substantial number of underclassmen returning.

Johnny Folsom passes successfully to a teammate despite the opposition from Eau Claire's Buddy Hargrove. Folsom, a junior, is a bright prospect and will return next year.

In the early moments of the Spartanburg clash, Bob Hampton takes the tip-off to start action in the game. In this game a strong Spartanburg defense held Dreher's scoring to a minimum and the Blue Devils lost 37-68.

Donnie Futch battles for the ball with a Sumter player in the Blue Devils' 63-51 victory over the Gamecocks at the Hand gym.

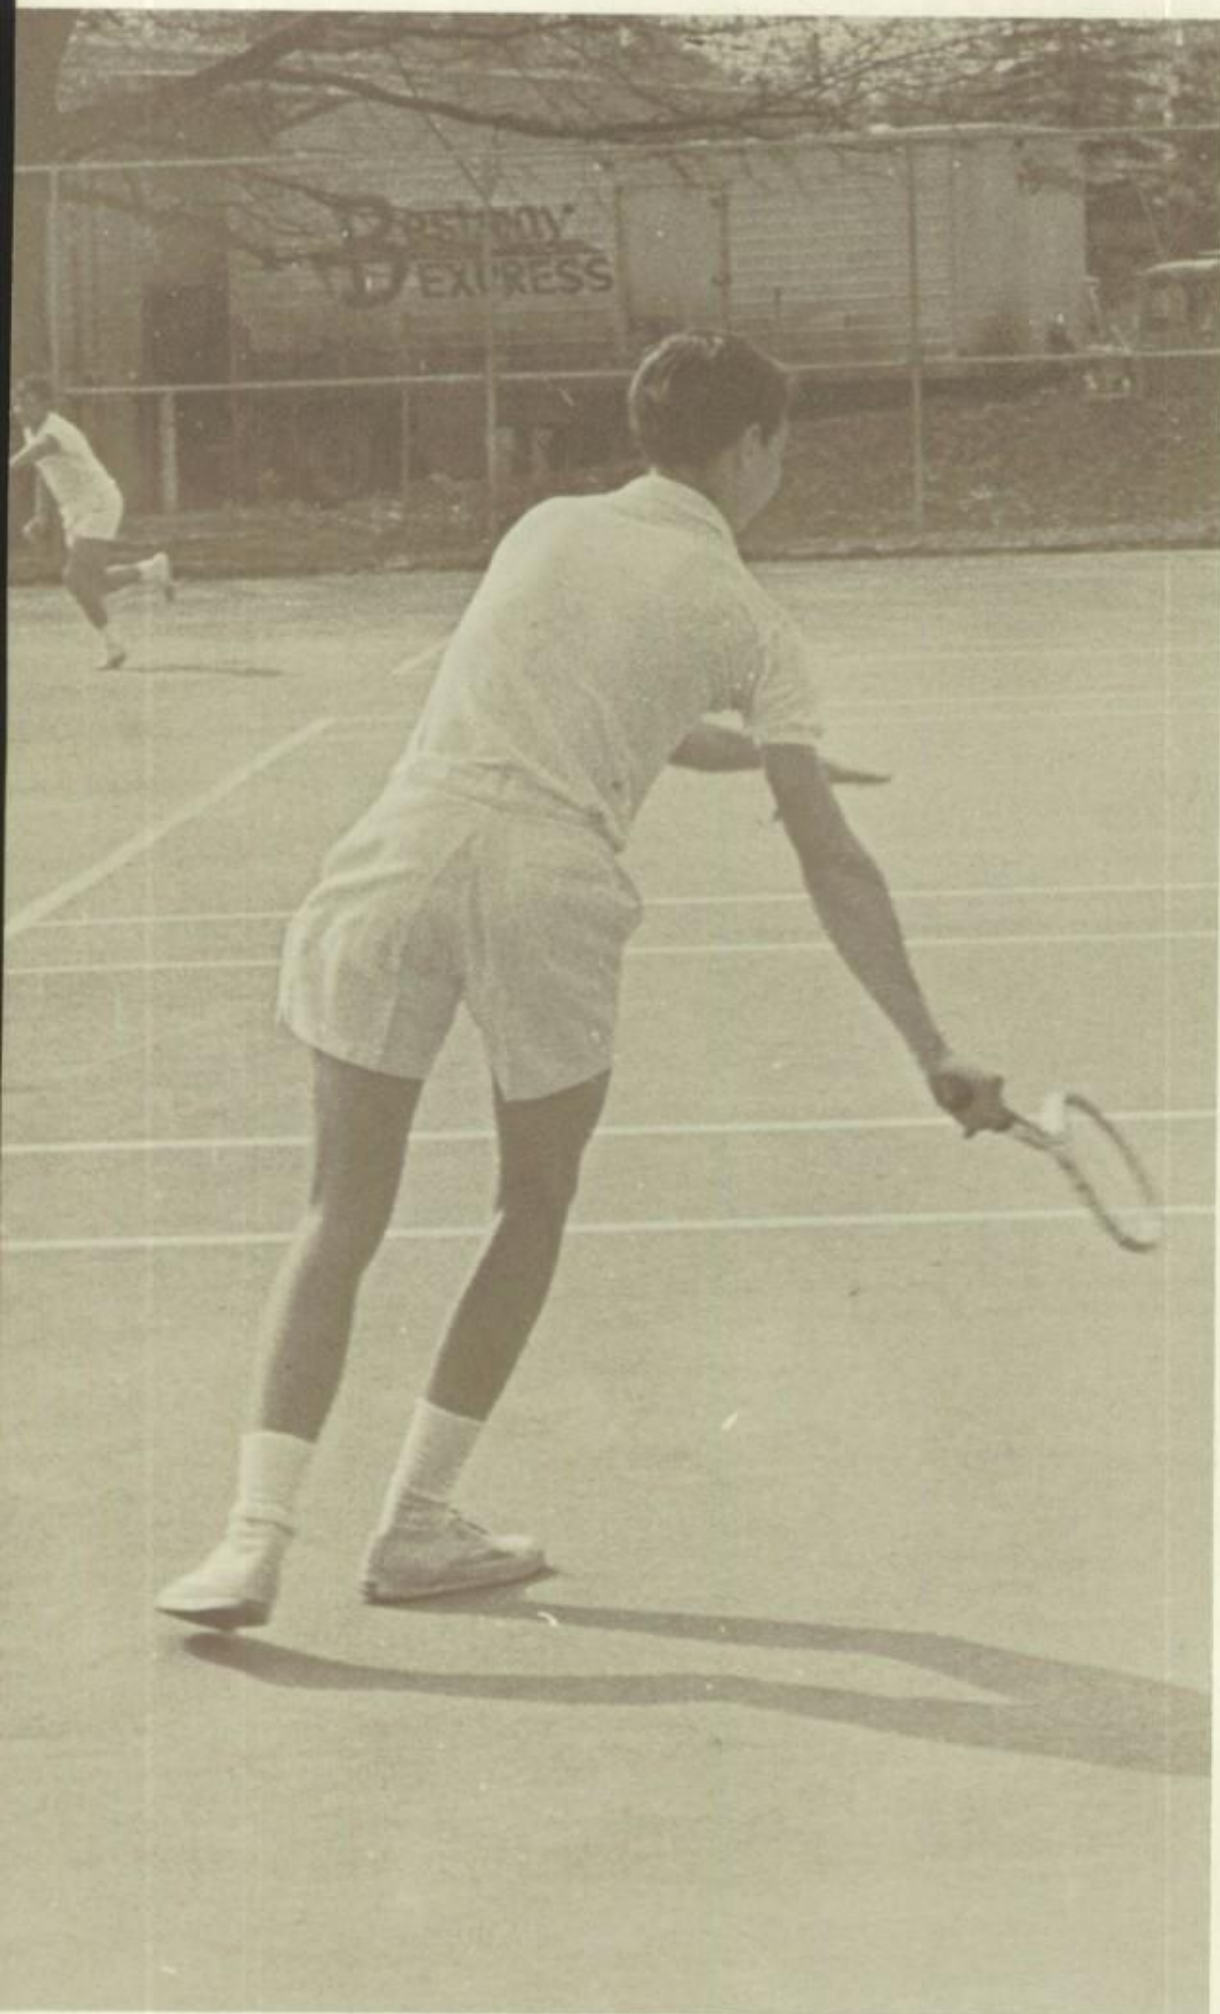

Tom Moore and Bob Hampton scrap for a rebound against Parker in the Blue Devils' seventh win of the season. The team handed Parker two substantial defeats during the season.

TENNIS

Graham Reich exhibits the strong backhand that helps him rank number one on the Blue Devil Tennis Team. Other members of the team include: Frank Dana, John Bryan, George Wolfe, Tom Hamilton, and Wilmot Irvin.

Under the direction of Coach Bill Cheek, the Tennis Team looks good this year and promises an even brighter future next year with five underclassmen returning. Here, Mr. Cheek watches and keeps score as the team wins this match 6-3 over Clinton.

George Wolfe delivers a powerful serve against an opponent in the Greenwood match.

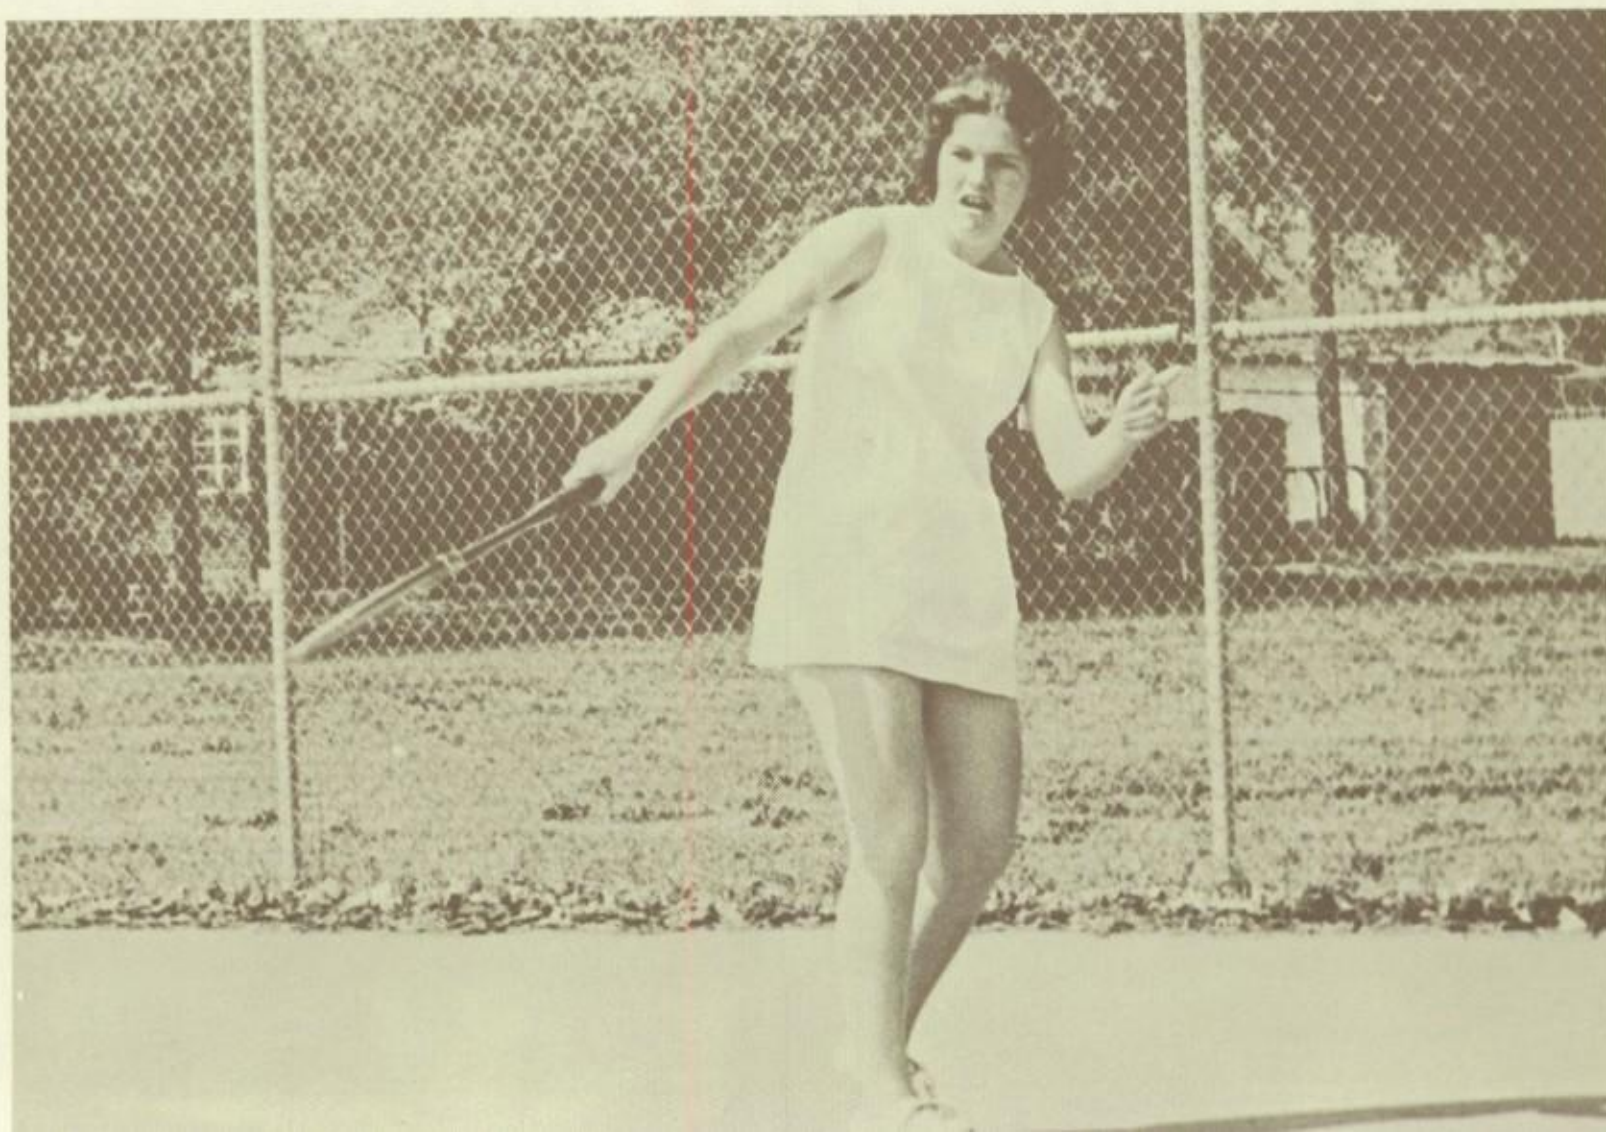

Caroline Gibbes, captain of the girls' tennis team, serves hard against a Lancaster opponent. Other members of the girls' team include: Caroline Petty, Mary Moorman, Alice Pearce, Kathy Spong, Anne Cooper, and Mary Beverly Taylor.

Caroline Petty, an underclassmen on the girls' tennis team, returns a serve to score against Lancaster. So far this season the team has compiled an impressive record, and future success is imminent.

TRACK PREVIEW

Coach Deane Fowble times miler Robbie Pachak. Fowble led the track team through a successful spring and hopes to do well in the highlight of the season, The State-Record Relays.

Dreher sprinters Tommy Brooks, Charles Greene, and Daniel Hayman take the hundred yard dash in the Devils' decisive victory over Dentsville.

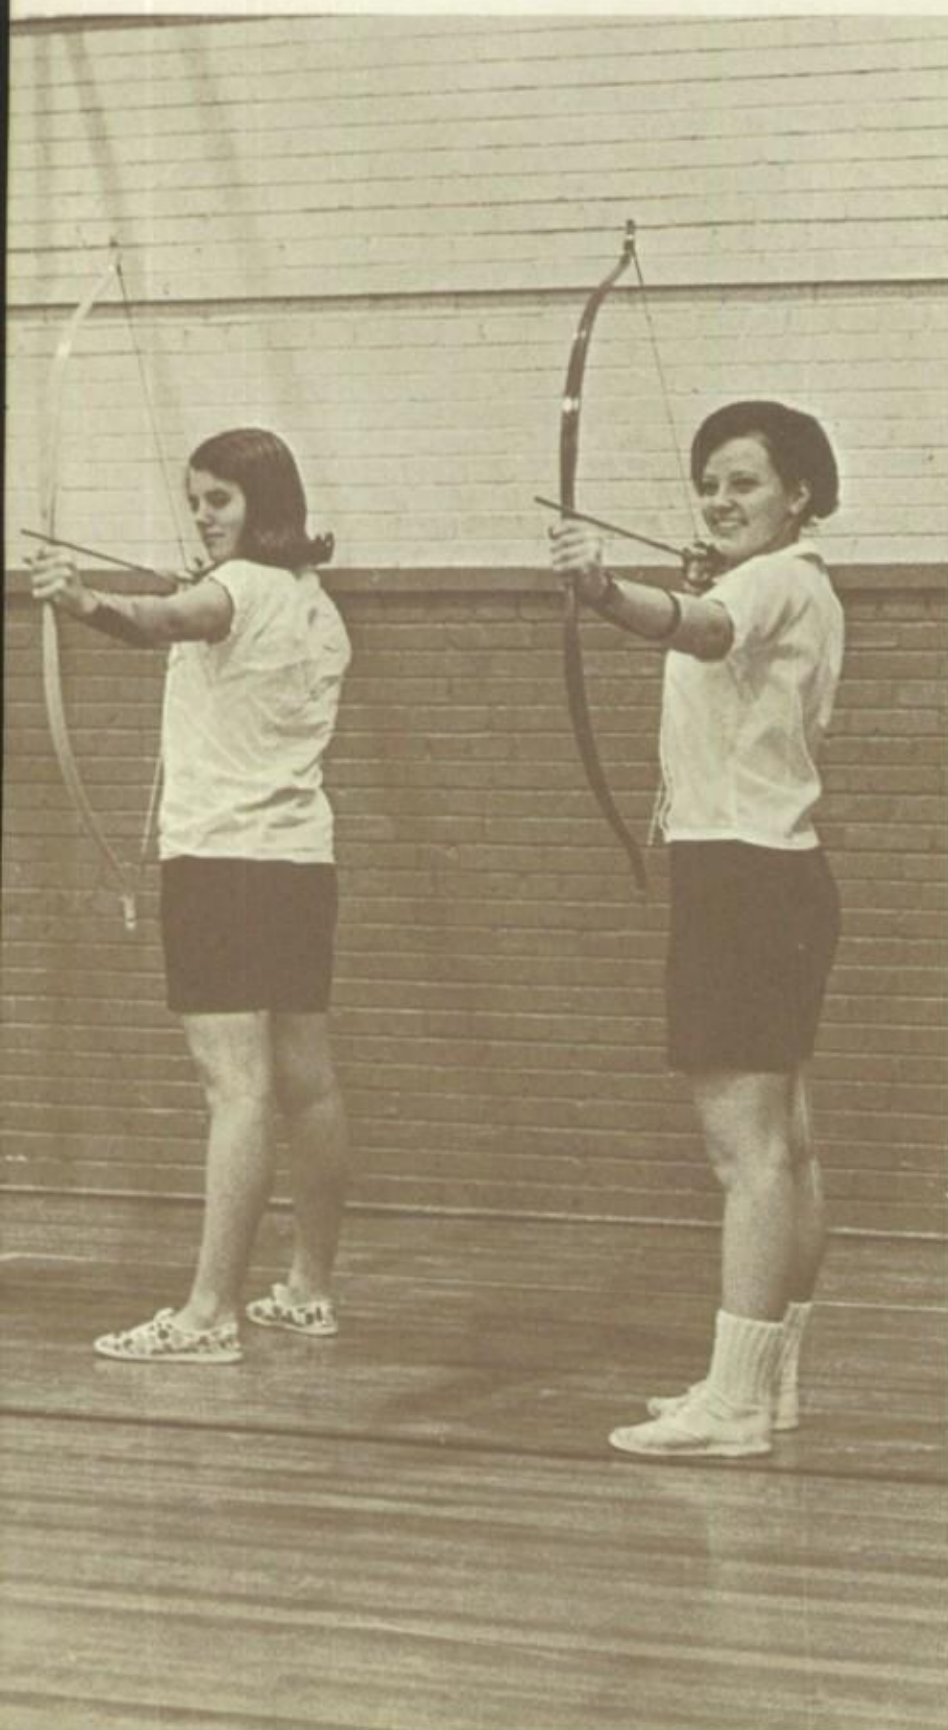

Anchor man Tommy Brooks brings in the baton to win the 880 relay in the State Record Qualifying meet. Dreher is especially strong in its relay teams and milers, and promises to improve in field events, an area in which the Devils usually do not excel.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The G.A.A. is an organization that gives girls at Dreher the chance to participate in athletics outside of their gym classes. Girls who are genuinely interested in athletics and have shown ability in various sports have the opportunity to attend Play Days held at Coker College and at Winthrop. There they can participate in sports not offered at Dreher. Each girl has a chance to accumulate points toward awards, which are presented with the Best Athlete and the Sportsmanship award at the annual banquet.

Many girls who enjoy basketball participate in the intramurals held each year. ABOVE, Jean Pearce waits for the rebound as Beth Avgerinos makes a lay-up.

Each year G.A.A. sponsors a successful sweatshirt sale. President Faye Harmon describes the sales campaign to Jean Southard, Vice-President, and Harriett Jervey, Secretary.

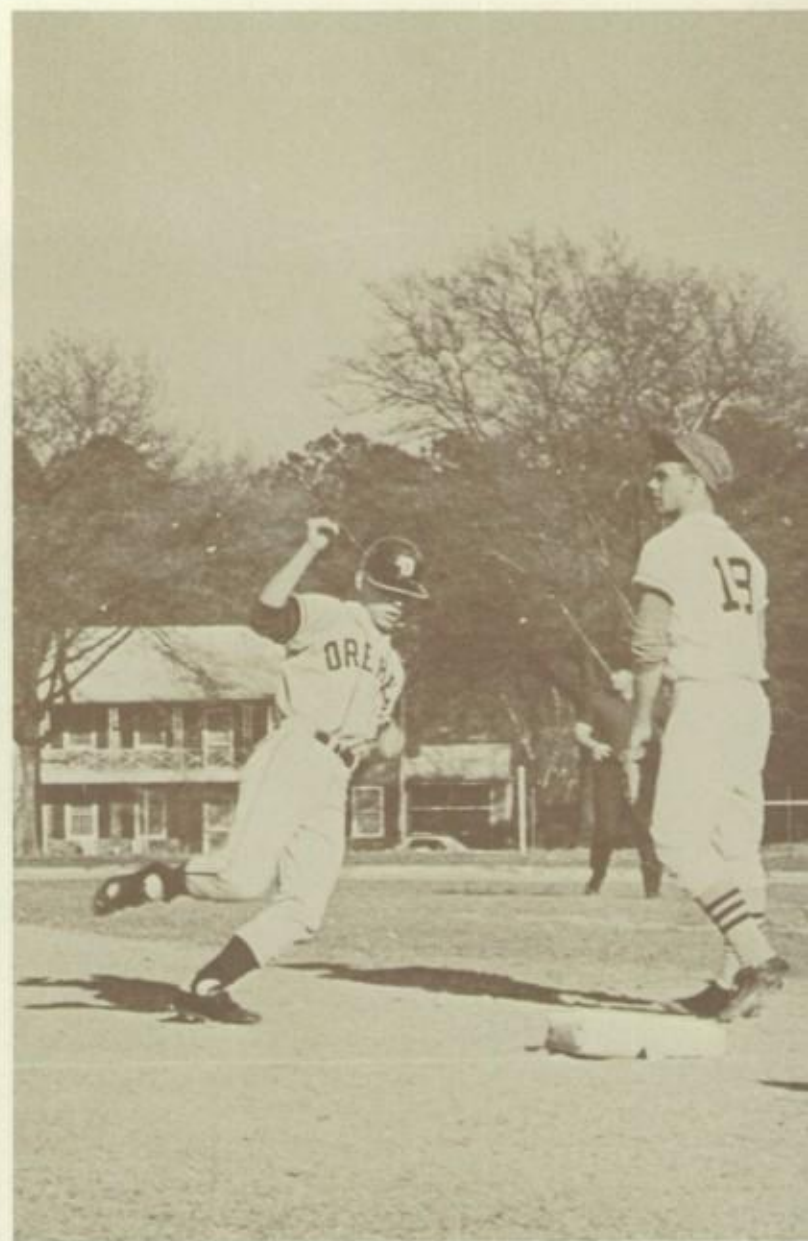

The committee chairman not only work hard in the projects of the organization, but they also find time to practice volleyball. Here Nancy Payne volleys the ball to Maria Taylor, Jeanne Jenkins, Anne Coleman, Mary Barnes, Kathy Hyman, Mitzi Helms, and Carol Clark.

Steve Donnell, a recent addition to the Blue Devil Baseball Team, rounds third base with a run that boosted the Devils over Camden, 9-2.

BASEBALL

Off to a slow start this year, the team bounded back with wins over Columbia, Eau Claire, and Camden. Here, Bob Spratlin delivers a pitch to an Eau Claire batter.

Herbert Pilcher and Debbie Walker are shown discussing bowling techniques.

BOWLING

The Bowling Team had great depth this year with Herbert Pilcher and Debbie Walker putting in outstanding performances as captains of the boys' and girls' teams. Starlanes Bowling Center was the scene of many matches among which Dreher and other high schools in the area participated, including Eau Claire, Flora, and Columbia High. The overall team record this year was 38 wins and 18 losses. Under the direction of Coach John Palyok the boys' bowling team included: Herbert Pilcher, Jim Collawn, John DuBois, James Ross, David Setzer, Leroy Smith, Lewis Truesdale, and Irwin Wells. The girls' team included: Debbie Walker, Mary Hartin, Jayne Hempley, Mellie LaRoache, Becky Martello, Mary Muthig, Martine Tuller, and Bruce Walker.

GOLF

BEAUTIES

DREHER'S BEAUTIES

On November 30, 1967, thirty-four of Dreher's most dazzling Blue Devils were assembled for the third annual Miss Blue Devil Pageant. Sponsored by the BLUE DEVIL Staff, the program was directed with the faultless supervision of Mr. Gerald Floyd, while Mr. John Wrisley of WIS-TV provided his professional finesse as master of ceremonies.

As usual, there were the moments of tension, surprise and elation following the decision of the judges. The panel, including Miss Edwena Lowery of Columbia College, Mrs. Latta Johnston, past president of the Lyric Theatre, Dr. Gordon Myers of Columbia College, and Director of the Miss S. C. Universe pageant Jim Shirley, finally decided on sophomore Miss Harriett Jervy as the 1967-68 Miss BLUE DEVIL. Also chosen were Miss Senior, Debbie Hutchison; Miss Sophomore, Kristen Shealy; Miss Junior, Sheryl Boyd; Miss Freshman, Reba Guilds. Class representatives were Eloise Freeman, Vickie Naylor, Sally Exum, Alice Holler, Trina Hunt, Ann Koon, Frances Young, and Elaine Boyd.

Becky Peters makes last-minute preparations before walking on stage at the Miss Blue Devil Pageant.

Mr. Gerald Floyd, pageant director, discusses the format with Master of Ceremonies, John Wrisley.

At the home of Mrs. J. Ed Smith, who entertained the contestants with a pre-pageant tea, Susan Craig and Carol Strasburger appear to charm the judges.

Harriett Nettles, Dreher's MISS FLAME contestant, shows cause for alarm. Harriett was first runner-up in the city-wide celebration of Fire Prevention Week.

At left, Debbie Hutchison is escorted down the ramp. As MISS BLUE AND WHITE, she reigned over the homecoming football game.

Dear Elizabeth

It's been so much fun in math ~~III~~ + lunch together. I'll never forget us picking on Ronnie mims and Allen Kinder. I had so much fun when you, me & Jane went uptown together. you have to come & spend the night with me. We'd have a ball. you know really & truly we have so much in common. We both ~~love~~ singing and playing the piano. We both ~~love~~ to beat boys up. I like boys & Glen. Glen and I aren't going steady, but we still like each other ~~very~~ very much. We felt we weren't old enough to go steady. We're really too young to go steady.

Keep watching "Dark Shadows." I really just think Barnabas is precious. I hope ~~he~~ he outsmarts the witch's curse. Don't you? you know we live just about 8 blocks apart. There is no sense in us being so lazy. Don't be surprised if I pop up one day at your house!! my piano recital is this Friday night. I'm playing a duet on two pianos. It's very pretty & lively. My teacher is playing on the other piano. It's a lovely concert grand piano I'm playing on.

you're the best friend anyone could have. you seem to understand everything!! I hope we have lots of classes together. we have algebra and Biology. together. we can puke together. I've got a roachhead for science & you don't like Mr. Parks for sure!! we'll have so much fun!! Hey! Liz! we get out at 2:20 everyday except Monday! man! I mean girl, we'll really get to know each other!! I'm getting 6 credits! Biology, Algebra, Spanish, English, History, P.E. & P.E. I'll have a full schedule & will really have to STUDY!! Hope to see you some (a lot) this summer! what do you do during the summer! I watch T.V., go visit, let people visit me! We can go uptown & see movies & feed squirrels this summer! we can also swim.

Oh! Liz I'm so glad I know you! you've got such a wonderful ~~person~~ personality! I can't wait till this summer! you're so wonderful to know. now let's get to work! you bug Ronnie and I. I'm a stupid person! gotta go! Love BELLE

~~Elizabeth~~, <sup>-7 sorry about that</sup>
Elizabeth,
Chorus, sure has been fun. You are are a very cute & sweet girl with a great personality.
Have a nice summer,
be good, & I'll see you next year in Chorus.
Judy

Elizabeth,
I've enjoyed bumping in to you a lot. I hope to ~~see~~ do this next year! Have a nice summer and stay as sweet as you are! See you next year in Chorus.
Love
Anna Khorri

Eliz,
Listen you know that you filled my back full of holes this year. Don't you? Just you weight. Although I got mad a couple of times I didn't mean it. You're a very sweet girl. Stay that way. I'll see you next year in homecoming.

Just Randy

To a very very very nice girl who I like very very much I have enjoyed being in math class very much and if I ~~could~~ ever have any crum your its yours, George a yours, George a

Elizabeth,
 I enjoyed having you in study hall. Good luck next year
 W.P. Naylor

Elizabeth,
 It's been a pleasure having you in study hall. I'm sorry I couldn't get better acquainted with all the students but winter, Coach Robinson

Elizabeth,
 I've never seen the world (except for you)
 I guess I'll have to go and take a special course in speaking but not over look that, every one has one pretty good. Bye Bye for now, Elizabeth

P.S. I've never seen the world (except for you)
 I guess I'll have to go and take a
 special course in speaking but not
 over look that, every one has one pretty good. Bye Bye for now, Elizabeth
